A Merry Christmas to All

HOT FURNACE BLAMED

Pacifica Girl Saves Her Family From Fire

A young girl was credited by Pacifica firemen yesterday morning with saving the lives of her mother, a younger sister and a little baby sister asleep in a crib as heat and smoke from an overheated furnace filled their two-story home.

Firemen reported that the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Torres of 468 Inverness Drive awoke around 8:40 a.m. to discover the home filling with heat and smoke. She aroused a sister and then rushed upstairs to awaken her mother, whose bed was almost over a furnace duct from which heat and smoke were pouring, and a little sister.

Only the fact that the Christmas school vacation had just started and the two older girls were home from class probably saved the lives of their mother and infant sister, firemen reported.

Mrs. Torres told firemen that she "just couldn't seem to wake up" when her daughter finally aroused her.

Firemen said that a fuse to a furnace motor had been bypassed. The furnace kept heating up until a fire was started in a wall and the furnace motor was burned.

As the heat and smoke fumes began to grow, firemen said a blower sucked up fumes up through all the furnace ducts in the house. They said that a hole had to be cut into a wall between the living room and the garage to extinguish flames and that the interior of the house would have to be entirely repainted. Damage was estimated at around $500.

Firemen said if the older girl had not awakened when she did flames probably would have erupted and burned the entire house. The father had left earlier to seek work at union headquarters, firemen said.

The family was taken to a neighbor's home before the arrival of fire trucks.

One of the "meanest men of the year" later in the afternoon ignited a collection stand for the needy placed by Goodwill Industries in the parking lot of the Cala Food Market in Pacific Manor.

According to firemen, a little girl spotted smoke pouring from the stand and ran to fire department headquarters about a block away to turn in an alarm.

Operation Santa Claus Set Friday

Men to Hand Out Toys, Food

(Picture, Page 16)

Christmas will be a little brighter, a little more plentiful and a little more meaningful this week than some 120 needy families in Daly City previously had thought possible.

That's because of Operation Santa Claus, the city's annual yuletide campaign to provide toys and turkey dinners and foodstuffs for the less fortunate.

Tomorrow, Daly City firemen will begin distributing nearly 500 toys to children in these needy families. Every child will receive what Operation Santa Claus officials have described as "a lovely toy."

Starting promptly at 9 a.m. Friday, volunteers will begin the heart-warming task of distributing the turkey dinners and other foodstuffs to families.

Much of the foodstuffs will comprise cans of food that have been collected by children and brought to receiving areas at all of the city's playgrounds.

This phase of the annual pro-City Recreation Department. Each year, the children have (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

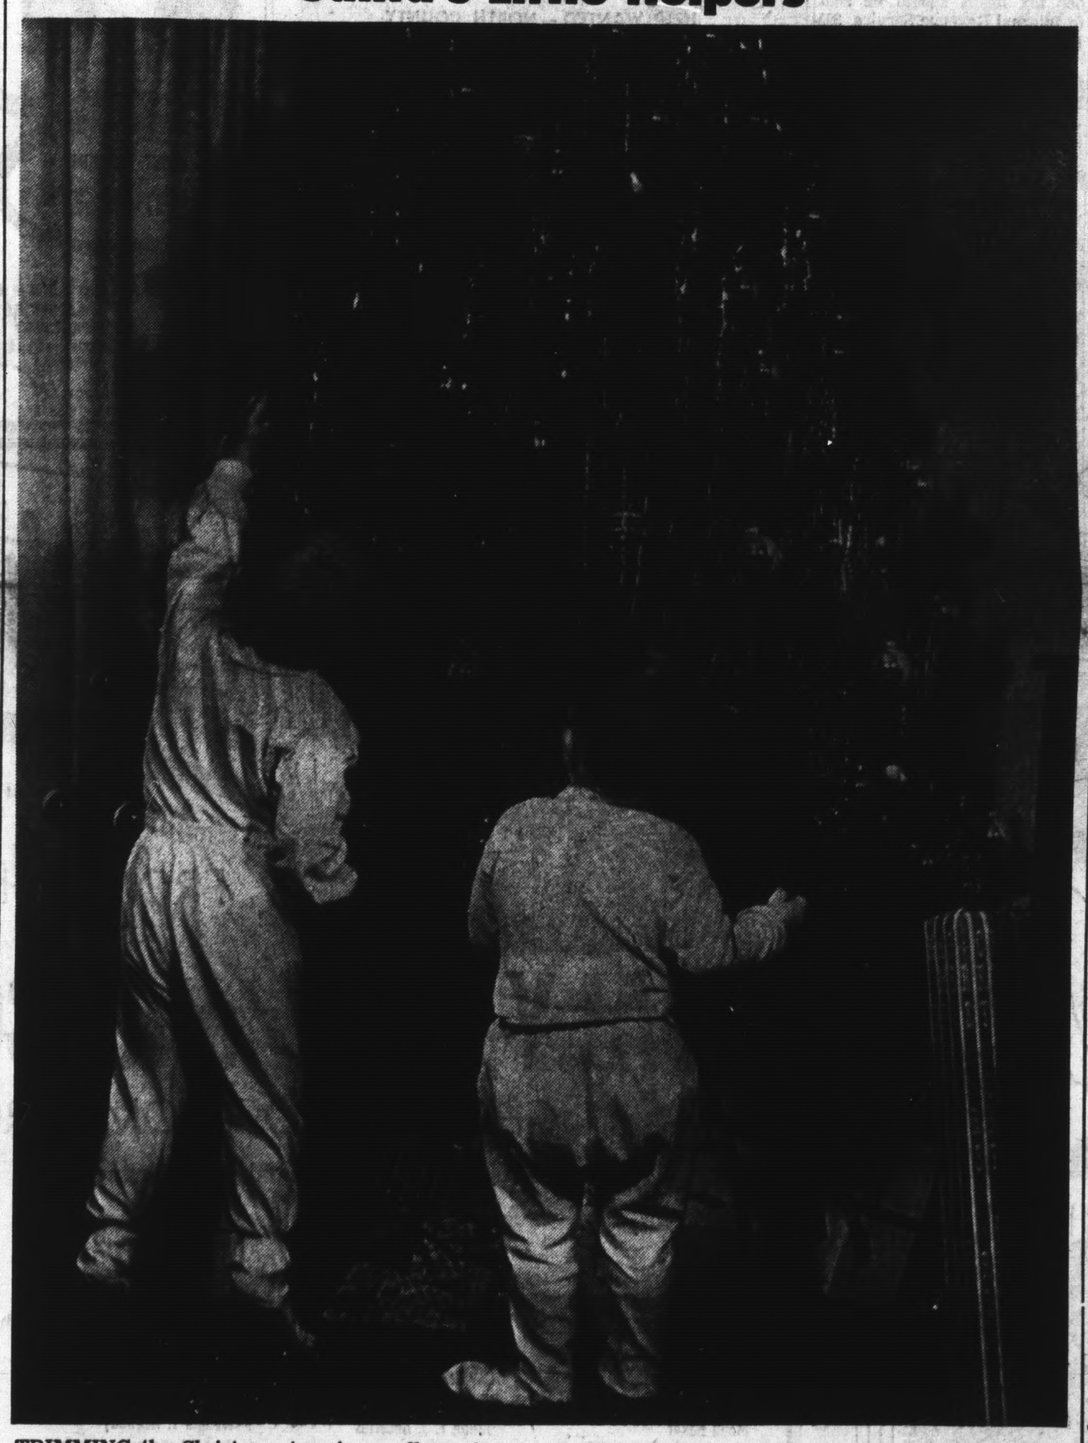
Santa's Little Helpers



TRIMMING the Christmas tree is usually a chore for tall adults, most families would agree. However, in the household of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cullen of 90 Forest Grove Drive, Daly City, at least two youngsters would dispute that contention. Here, the Cullens' sons, John, 3, left, and Timmy, 2, try their hand around the tree as the big day draws near. Santa Claus is due in the North County Friday evening and from all indications, he'll receive a hearty "Merry Christmas" from his fans.

D.C. Forms Plan To Combat Bomb Scares

By JOHN HORGAN

Daly City police said yesterday they have devised a battle plan to combat a wave of bomb threats that have terorized a chain of all-night supermarkets in the city.

Early Monday, a bomb exploded in a Mayfair Market at 2665 Geneva Avenue after the store had been evacuated of customers and employes. Damage was minor.

Later, a second Mayfair store at 6967 received a telephoned bomb threat, which was followed by a third threat phoned again to the Geneva Avenue outlet.

Lt. Phillip LaBruzzo of the police department's detective division outlined the new battle plan. He explained:

"We are not going to search for any bombs now. There really isn't any point in it. They are too difficult to find and too easily concealed. When we do find them we have no means to dispose of them.

"The store manager will take steps with the police to evacuate the store that is threatened. We will then wait the prescribed length of time that the caller has stated plus 15 or 20 minutes for safe measure. Then it is up to the manager to determine whether he wants his store reopened."

This plan will be applied to all stores that receive threats, LaBrusso said.

While police were still investigating the explosion at the Geneva Avenue store Monday, a bomb threat was received at the Mission Street outlet at 11:45 a.m.

Twenty-five minutes later, the Geneva Avenue store again received a bomb threat call.

The Mission Street store was closed for 90 minutes and the Geneva store was shut down for 75 minutes during its second threat.

Almost immediately after the bomb exploded in the Geneva store, a caller telephoned police and said: "You little punk, the bomb will go off."

Shortly thereafter, LaBruzzo said a man called and told him: "You had better issue an all points bulletin to notify all supermarkets in Northern California that the next bomb will be a big one."

LaBruzzo said that San Fran- (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

JUHS May Get 2nd Site In Canyon

By LOUANNE HEATH

The Jefferson Union High School District may be able to locate a second school planned for the former Crocker Estates in a canyon area south of Market Street Extension, trustees of the district were told Monday night.

District Supt. Edward Morgan reported on the possibility, which would solve a problem the district has faced in trying to find a site in the area.

The Crocker Land Company has proposed a large subdivision in the San Bruno Mountain area. The hilly terrain in this region, however, has hampered the school district's planning for schools that would be needed to serve the subdivision.

The district anticipates that (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

Mary's Help Is Dedicated By Officials

An impressive turnout of top Daly City, San Mateo County, and San Francisco officials was on hand Saturady afternoon for the solemn, yet colorful, dedication of Mary's Help Hospital at its hilltop site in Daly City.

Later, Daly City hosted the gathering at a civic dinner at the Lake Merced Golf and Country Club. The dinner officially welcomed the hospital to Daly City.

Archibishop Joseph T. McGucken of the San Francisco Diocese, blessed a dedicatory plaque. Speakers included Sister Louise, administrator of Mary's Help, Mayor Francis Pacelli of Daly City and other hospital, religious and civic leaders.

The hospital officially opened (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

Fire Ruins A Family's Christmas

Fire ruined Christmas for a Daly City family Monday night.

Apparently started by a defective Christmas tree floodlight, flames swept through the holiday-decorated living room of Mr. and Mrs. John Smiraglia at 991 Maddux Drive and destroyed the Christmas tree and neatly wrapped Christmas presents.

Fire and smoke damage to the house and contents was estimated at about $1,000.

The flames were discovered by Mrs. Smiraglia when she returned home about 5:50 p.m. Firemen used a high pressure line and a booster line to bring (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

S.S.F. Delays Vote on 'Hot' Assessment

South San Francisco City Councilmen avoided a possibly difficult Christmas week scene last night by postponing the only "hot" item on their agenda until January.

Realizing that several public protests were to be made about plans for a Stonegate Ridge assessment district, councilmen postponed that public hearing to January 3, upon a request for time to allow further negotiations.

They cancelled another public hearing after learning that a reputed public nuisance had already been cleaned up, and read bids on $320,000 worth of (Please See Page 2, Column 6)

D.C. TAX RELIEF IN OFFING

New Year's Eve Dash Is Set

On New Year's Eve, when most people will have other things on their minds, a certain as yet undesignated official will be dispatched on a vital errand—an errand that will save a group of Daly City property owners thousands of dollars in taxes next year.

It will be the official's job to personally deliver to the State Board of Equalization in Sacramento a resolution that will be adopted earlier that day by the board of directors of the Broadmoor Police Protection District.

The timing is important because 5 p.m. New Year's Eve is the deadline for such matters to be on file with the state board.

And the fact that the deadline can be met at all is due to some intricate split-second scheduling devised by the Broadmoor commissioners and the County Local Agency Formation Commission.

It all started last month when the owners of ten parcels in Daly City petitioned the LAFC to be de-annexed from the Broadmoor district.

They were paying double taxes for police protection, they complained, being required to pay a 41-cent rate to Broadmoor in addition to the regular municipal rate to support the Daly City Police Department.

The situation came about when they were annexed by the city, which took over the job of police protection.

Although the owner of a $20,000 home was paying $23.50 a year to the Broadmoor district, he was getting nothing at all for his taxes.

Max Rolih and Jerome Coleman, executive and attorney for the LAFC, reported that they had found 370 more parcels in a similar predicament. They set about to see what could be done.

Broadmoor commissioners agreed to co-operate and passed a resolution asking for withdrawal of the property in question.

Then, last week the LAFC approved the de-annexation and the Broadmoor board held a special meeting to schedule a public hearing for the earliest possible time — 10 a.m., December 31.

Land Usage Hearing Set In Pacifica

A public hearing will be held at the Pacifica City Council tonight for reclassification of 12 acres of mostly undeveloped land along the coast.

Marguerite Washington, owner of the property which lies west of the Coast Highway on Paimetto and abuts Pacific Manor to the south, expects little opposition from the 80 adjacent property owners who have been notified of her development plans.

Mrs. Washington is asking that the property be rezoned to multiple family residential, general commercial, and commercial recreation.

Another planning matter on tonight's city council agenda will be a request from attorney Peter Buchanan for street improvements at Rockaway Beach. In addition he asks for a (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

Plan Formed To Combat Threats

cisco authorities and other Bay Area enforcement agencies have reported they have not received similar bomb threat calls in the past few days.

LaBruzzo reported that the FBI is "interested" in the case now, but that "they have no jurisdiction in the matter." He added that "the FBI is always interested in things like this."

Police first got word of a bomb at the Geneva market at 11:40 Sunday night.

An employee of the market at Geneva Avenue called dispatcher Henry George to say that the store had received a telephone threat of a bomb having been placed somewhere in the store.

He quoted the caller as stating:

"Take all your money and put it in the shrubbery near the Purity Store (at 2840 Geneva Avenue) or the bomb will be set off. It works by remote control."

Searching the store, officers found a brown paper bag with an alarm clock attached to the outside.

Wires ran from the clock to the back of the package. The device had been placed on a display shelf at the west end of the store.

It had been placed between rows of pots and pans and a row of tissue paper products.

Police hurriedly backed off, clearing all people from the store. While police were telephoning the army for help, the bomb exploded.

"Someone could have had his hand blown off had he been standing next to it," commented Patrolman James Welsh, a bomb expert, after the smoke had cleared.

The tissue paper, scattered by the bomb, but absorbing much of its fury, caught fire, and was extinguished by the police, who used an extinguisher before it could spread.

Damage was confined to about $100, police estimated.

Market manager Lee Tanner, roused from his home at 12:30 a.m., closed the store for four hours. It usually remains open 24 hours a day.

Police officers investigating the blast included: Lt. Charles Terry, Sgt. Matthew Murray, Sgt. James Doran, Det. LaBruzzo and Officers Richard Sequin, William Moeller and James Welsh.

A similar bombing threat to a Mayfair market at 2350 Junipero Serra Boulevard in Daly City occurred Thanksgiving Day of 1964.

Two men were subsequently arrested. One was acquitted and the other pleaded guilty to a lesser offense and was sentenced to ten weekends in jail, LaBruzzo said.

Officials of the Mayfair Markets, with offices in Oakland, declined comment today on all of the cases.

590-foot sea wall on Esplanade Way.

Buchanan describes Pacifica's beach land in this area along with his clients, as being "in jeopardy of disappearing" from the erosive action of the Pacific Ocean.

In other business, official action by Pacifica before the State Utilities Commission is asked on behalf of citizens who want service road Greyhound bus stops and an additional pedestrian overpass at Eureka Square in the Sharp Park District.

Mrs. Edna Calhan, president of the Pacifica Manor Village Improvement Club asks that action against the Greyhound Bus Company be taken, if necessary.

Mrs. Calhan describes the freeway as "interfering with the rights of citizens and the freedom of movement."

Help for the small developer is asked in a letter from Joseph McGuigan.

He requests that the new zoning ordinance give special attention to the small C-1 lots and allow them also R-3. The ordinance presently requires 1,500 square feet per unit in C-1 districts.

McGuigan writes, "If we do not have maximum use of these small parcels, it will be impossible to build and show any profit."

Acquisition of the Old Pedro Valley train station as a historical monument, will also be under consideration following a letter from the San Mateo Historical Association showing their interest in the matter.

The train station belongs to George Middleton, an owner of 92 per cent of the stock of the old Ocean Shore Railroad that ran from San Francisco along the coast.

Mrs. Smiraglia said her daughter, Debra, 11, had come home and turned on the floodlight, then went to a neighbor's house until the parents arrived home.

A son, John, 18, was out Christmas shopping.

Mrs. Smiraglia said the floodlight somehow ignited nearby furnishings. The fire burned part of a living room couch, the floor and wall drapes in addition to the Christmas decorations.

Her husband is an employe of Westlake Bowl and had not yet returned from work when the fire was discovered.

Post-Times Yule Prizes Are Awarded

A 7-year-old San Bruno girl and a 7-year-old San Mateo boy have been named as the grand prize winners in the annual Post-Times Contest, "What Christmas Means to Me."

The contest this year attracted several hundred entries. It was open to children between the ages of 6 and 10. Merchandise prizes worth $15 were awarded to the winners.

In her prize entry, Leslie Guerin of San Bruno wrote in part:

"I think Christmas is love because I love God and it's His birthday. I love Christmas, too, because it means presents. It is fun; and it is a time of giving presents to your mother and father. . . . It means visiting old friends or seeing the rest of the family. Everybody in the whole, wide world enjoys Christmas."

The winning entries were selected on the basis of ideas, thought and sincerity rather than for English, spelling or handwriting.

Commenting on the dedication and civic dinner, Mayor Pacelli yesterday praised the work of the city's departments and the staff of the hospital.

"Things went off smoothly," he said, "and it was due primarily to their efforts." And he added:

"It isn't every day that we have something like Mary's Help Hospital come to Daly City or to San Mateo County. I was certainly gratified at the response to the invitations of the City Council to join in this day of dedication, especially in this season of goodwill and brotherhood to man."

two schools will be needed. One site, already selected, would be on the eastern side of the mountains near an industrial park complex.

The sites avaialble for the second school are in steep terrain. Should the canyon area be made available to the school district, it would provide a suitable suite but would require extensive development and fill prior to the time a school could be constructed, Morgan indicated.

In other action, trustees voted to hold a meeting February 7 to discuss proposals to be made by the district's boundary study committee.

The meeting, which will be held in conjunction with the boards' regular business meeting, will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Oceana High School.

Formalization of a policy for the conduct of businesslike meetings was urged by Elio Fontana, board president, who presented an initial draft of the policy for the board's consideration.

The policy will receive its next reading at the January 10 board meeting.

The policy calls for persons who wish to be heard by the board to sign cards, requesting time on the agenda, at the time they arrive for a meeting.

The policy also recommends that a three-minute time limit be placed upon unscheduled presentations by members of the audience.

Income Tax Forms Will Be Mailed

Individual taxpayers will begin to receive their pre-addressed individual income tax packages during the period beginning Monday and ending January 11.

Joseph M. Cullen, district director of Internal Revenue for Northern California, announced last week that bulk supplies of tax forms for accountants, attorneys and tax practitioners may be picked up at 395 Beale Street, San Francisco.

The distribution center for the forms is three blocks south of Market Street (between Folsom and Harrison Streets) and two blocks east of First Street.

Requests by mail for bulk order tax forms should be sent to Internal Revenue Service, 395 Beale Street, San Francisco.

Cullen informed preparers of returns that shipment of forms in excess of four pounds will be mailed at the expense of the recipient.

Although the low bidder was reported as the First California company, offering an average interest rate of 4.249 per cent for the 25 year bonds, the bid award was held to January 3, also.

Councilmen approved a resolution urging the county to give higher priority to the extension of Westborough Boulevard to El Camino Real, from Junipero Serra, and another abandoning a portion of Fourth Lane to make room for a church.

The council approved several planning commission items as recommended, agreed to a student fund raising festival at South San Francisco High School March 18 and 19, and adjourned wishing everyone a "Merry Christmas."

Esther Penelli of 38 Castlemont Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that someone had stolen her wallet from her coat pocket while she was in the Westlake Shopping Center. She said the wallet contained $50 and miscellaneous papers.

Mary's Help Hospital Dedicated

WITH ITS new, 11-story building serving as a striking backdrop, Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City is dedicated before a standing-room-only crowd gathered in front of the structure's main entrance. (Ceremony was held Saturday. Archbishop Joseph McGucken of the San Francisco Diocese blessed a dedicatory plaque mounted to one side of the entrance. The principal address was given by Judge George B. Harris, chairman of the hospital's advisory board. Other speakers included Sister Louise, administrator of Mary's Help and Daly City Mayor Francis Pacelli. The hospital admitted its first patients December 12. Construction took nearly two years. 'Little Red Buses Start Running

An enthusiastic welcome was extended to Pacifica's new "little red bus" service last week when it officially started its regular run.

Passengers in the hilly sections of Linda Mar, Pacifica Manor, Edgemar, Westview and Fairmont expressed delight as they boarded the new bus of the El Mar Transit, which will serve all of Pacifica.

John Cushing, owner of the El Mar Transit, took press representatives and city officials on a pioneer ride and covered the entire route.

Vice Mayor Grace McCarthy described the ride as being "so scenic it is a pleasure to take it just for the tour."

The buses are bright red Dodge Servi-cars and can seat eight or nine people.

The main terminal is in front of the Pacific Market at the Eureka Square Shopping Center, east of the Coast Highway in the Sharp Park District.

Buses leave there 15 minutes after the hour, every hour for north and south Pacifica.

On the half hour, a bus leaves the Linda Mar Shopping Center routing through Park Pacifica, Sun Valley, and Terra Nova for its trip north.

Laguna Aides To Hear Tax Views

Four representatives from the Laguna Salada School District in Pacifica will attend a seminar on taxes January 15 at the Henry George School of Social Science in San Francisco.

Approval to attend the conference was given by the district's Board of Trustees after a letter was received from Elmer A. Weden Jr., president of the Foundation.

Henry George was an American economist and social reformer whose principle of taxation of land values and exemption of improvements has been adopted in New Zealand, Queensland and most of the New South Wales.

Its prominent advocates in England and the United States have set up a foundation to further George's theories of a "single tax."

Conference members will discuss tax reform and hear opinions and answer questions.

The CRASH program, a "community rebellion to achieve safe highways through New Year's Day, was approved by the Lasuna board.

In other business, a comprehensive report on the upper grade program was presented to board members and a letter of commendation from Spacemobile Lecturers of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration was read. Jim Boyle and Don Fandre, NASA lecturers who gave a series of talks and demonstrations to seventh and eighth grade pupils in Pacifica early in December, described the "harmonious educational tone in Pacifica" as being "indicative of top quality high level administration."

Another letter received by the District and discussed at its board meeting announced the appointment of official observers from the League of Women Voters of San Mateo County who will be watching "government in action" and keep the League membership informed.

Mrs. Michael Haggerty of 274 Sterling Avenue and Mrs. Dave Eolkin of 227 Stanley Avenue, both in Pacifica, are the appointees.

District Superintendent Fred Lucas described the League of Women Voters as a "great outfit" and said that he had sent a letter welcoming the visitors to the board meetings.

Raise Was $100 Short

Daly City councilmen took an understandable double-take last week when they read a Post-Times story incorrectly reporting they had approved an ordinance boosting their monthly salary $100.

Fact is, the increase was $200—not just $100. The higher salaries are authorized under new state legislation enacted this year.

Daly City falls in the 50,000 to 75,000 population category and thus, under the terms of the legislation, is permitted to pay its councilmen $250 a month. The old salary was $50. The mayor received $75.

DEATHS

JOHN FLOYD TATE

John Floyd Tate, 67, of 101 Palmcrest Drive, Daly City, died last week at St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco after an illness.

A native of Kentucky, he was the husband of Mrs. Linda L. Tate and the father of Bill L. and Sandra S. Tate and Mrs. Cherie Schwing.

Tate had lived in California for ten years.

Funeral services were conducted by W. C. Lasswell & Company. Burial was in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park.

EFFIE HALL

Mrs. Effie Hall, 58, 103 Mackenney Avenue, Pacifica, died last Wednesday at County General Hospital. She was a native of Arkansas. A son, Gordon Hall, a San Mateo police sergeant, survives.

White, Negro Boys Fight

A teen-ager's birthday party was the scene Friday night of a fist fight among nearly 40 Negro and white youths, according to Daly City police.

The juveniles, almost all of them under 18 years old, scuffled briefly at the House of Parties on Hillside Drive in Dal City before police arrived.

A party was in progress at that location when about 20 Negro youths crashed the affair, according to police.

When police arrived, the fighting stopped quickly.

Police said there was no apparent motive for the fight—just that one group happened to find a party and tried to crash it.

One boy was taken to Mary's Help Hospital with a possible broken nose.

Another was arrested and charged with being drunk in public.

Police said no deadly weapons were displayed.

By LE PACINI

IF THIS week's column pulls up a bit short, it's not because we haven't tried. But it seems we're having a little mental telepathy program.

For the third time in the past few months we've encountered the eerie circumstance of reading in a San Francisco daily's sports section the identical subject on which we had been working for this column during the same week.

More mysterious, in each instance it's been the same columnist who's frustrated us.

There's no plagerism involved, because we don't know each other. We just happen, it seems, to be operating on the same wave lengths, and it's getting mighty annoying.

THIS LAST TIME, he did a satire on the numerous postseason awards football players receive, which is what we had been working on.

We were to make a case of a team which had chosen a most outstanding lineman, a most outstanding back, and then a most outstanding player, who happened to be another back. Which meant, logically, that the other back and lineman didn't qualify as players.

Another time this same writer did a piece on Bob Fouts' "second effort," as did we—which had to be thrown away.

What's bothering us even more than our wasted efforts, more than being beaten to the punch, is that we don't LIKE that other guy's column.

ONE OF OUR MORE pleasant sports surprises of the year occurred at the recent KYA-Terra Nova Faculty benefit basketball game in which TN handed the radio Oneders their first loss, 88-78.

Our surprise, however, wasn't in the fact that the teachers won, but in how the radio guys lost . . . playing it for keeps and fighting all the way.

They did a magnificent job without their ace, Don Delbon, who played for his own faculty (and scored 32 points), which is something like the Warriors without Guy Rodgers.

Even more gratifying was that they proved that America's aged shut-ins are not soft. They have successfully transcended their smoky-studio environment to play like real outdoorsmen.

Out of uniform some of them looked like the type who DRUNKS roll. In fact, one or two of them looked like Crest Toothpaste WINNERS.

But they were tough and scrappy all the way, and we'll bet on them any time, primarily because they don't look like their records sound.

★ ★ ★

WAS ANYBODY REALLY surprised when Duke dumped UCLA on successive nights? But don't worry. If we really must uphold West Coast basketball prestige, we can always sic the UCLA freshmen on the rest of the country.

★ ★ ★

IF FOOTBALL seasons get much longer it'll soon be necessary to have fall and spring All Americans.

★ ★

PROBABLY THE most unknown great Negro athlete of all time is Brice Taylor, an All-American guard for USC as far back as 1925. He was Southern Cal's first Negro All American—one of the first Negro All Americans from anywhere. He was, in fact, USC's first All American, period.

And he had only one arm.

WE STILL LIKE ice hockey's scoring method of crediting players with a point for assists as well as for goals. Basketball should consider it.

★ ★ ★

NO ONE WILL be able to accuse the University of Washington of undue proselyting this year. A check of their varsity roster shows that eight of the first ten men are from Washington, one is from Oregon, and the last, a ringer, from Texas.

Which may be why the Huskies aren't figured as contenders this season.

★ ★ ★

LAST WEEK we did a survey on the BIG Generation using San Francisco State College as a model and staking contemporary average football weights against the 'Gators 1953 roster.

We discovered, naturally, that football players have gotten heavier in the past 12 years.

This week we've done the same type survey, using the State 1965-66 basketball team's average height in comparison with the 1953 roster, and, guess what? There's hardly any difference.

In 1953 the Gator front line averaged 6-1, the backcourt 6-1, for an over-all average height of, obviously, 6-1.

This season the S.F. State front line averages 6-3¾, which is quite an improvement, but the backcourt goes at only 5-10¾, for an over-all average of only 6-1½.

All of which proves that football players grow faster than basketball players, or that you get fatter before you get taller.

ONE THING that sports teaches youngsters, yes sir, is not to be quitters. Right? Stick in there, gut it out against the longest odds. Moral victories can be more satisfying than physical victories. This type of an outlook is a real character builder.

And it's the coach whose job it is to instill this attitude in his boys, an attitude which will prematurely make them into men.

That's why we felt so warm inside when Gene Corum resigned last week as West Virginia University's head football coach.

What he said in his farewell to the campus should be an inspiration to all the young folk:

"I wanted to do a little better job than I've been doing and didn't know what else to do except quit."

And quit he did.

★ ★ ★

TWO FORMER Terra Nova long distance runners, Gary Covell and Bob Brun, have found an easier way to travel.

They're both now in the Air Force.

BILL MONTGOMERY, who takes the long way to Giant games by piloting his own boat to Candlestick's dock, doesn't dilly-dally for the REALLY big games.

Ask Mrs. Carol Montgomery, who never laid eyes on her husband until Thanksgiving, but who has been his wife for two weeks, already.

It was all as sudden as Koufax fastball.

Yes sir, there's still such things as fairy tales.

★ ★ ★

ONLY THE Yankees have hit more team "career" home runs than the Giants.

Honors Still Pour in For Greg Jones

South San Francisco High School's amazing halfback, Greg Jones, has added two more honors to his growing list of grid awards.

The Warrior star was named to the All-Northern California football teams named by both metropolitan dailies last week.

He was named Back of the Year by the Examiner-News-Call Bulletin.

Jones finished second in the balloting for Back of the Year in the Chronicle to Bellarmine's Phil Burton.

South San Francisco coach Ray DeJong was named North Coast area Coach of the Year by the Examiner. He finished second in the balloting for Coach of the Year for all Northern California.

Two other NPL players received some mention on the Chronicle's North Coast club.

Jefferson's Al Namanny and South S.F.'s John Moro were named to the honorable mention list.

The honor for Jones, which assures him of being named to the North Shrine team for the mid-summer North-South Shrine game in Los Angeles, augments his host of other awards.

This year alone he has already been named: Back of the Year by the PALO Club, Player of the Year in the NPL, Player of the Year in San Mateo County and Athlete of the Week and Month a number of times by a variety of newspapers and organizations.

NPL Clubs Will Be Idle Two Weeks

With Christmas just three days away and with many of the North Peninsula League teams close to their allotted limit of practice games, non-league basketball activity comes to almost a complete halt this week.

Only three teams will see action at all until January.

Both Jefferson and Terra Nova will play tonight in the Palo Alto Tournament as that event moves into its final round of action.

The sole other game of the week finds South San Francisco traveling to Marin County for a duel with San Rafael today.

Ohly Jefferson will play another game before the NPL Tournament in January.

The Indians will tackle rugged San Mateo on January 4 in Daly City.

All other teams will remain idle until the league tourney.

Crystal Ball Gazing?

COACH RICK WARNE, left, Oceana High School head basketball mentor, appears to be gazing into a crystal ball as he grips a basketball prior to a Shark game with Crestmoor. With Warner are John Hollingsworth, center, and Larry Jewett. Warne might have good reason to look to the future since the bulk of his club is made up of young players. (Post-Times Photo)

KEY SOPHOMORES

Shark Future Bright

(This is the fourth in a series of articles on North Peninsula League basketball team prospects for the 1965-66 season.)

By JOHN HORGAN

CONSIDER FOR A brief moment the pleasant dilemma of Oceana High School basketball coach Rick Warne.

To win a respectable number of games, Warne ought to play his senior-dominated older group of players. But (and this is a mighty big "but") Warne can't resist the temptation of playing his younger (and taller) players to get a glimpse of what the future will be like in a year or two.

Not surprisingly, Warne leans toward the latter move: playing the kids. And he is enthused about it.

"We are using between ten and 12 players per game lately. We use the sophomores as a unit both in the games and at practices. To put it mildly, the future looks real good right now."

The Shark coach has good reason to be elated about his group of young players even thought "they make typical mistakes because of their inexperience."

The Oceana crew of sophomores, the finest in the short history of the school, is being counted on to bring the small Coastside school up to a par with the likes of Westmoor and South San Francisco.

IDENTICAL TWINS Tom and Tim Serchan, both 6-0, lead off the list of good sophs.

The Serchan brothers, according to Warne, "are so much alike that I honestly can't tell you which one plays where."

One of them plays guard and the other plays forward. No one is quite sure which one plays where, but Warne commented that, "I think that Tom is a guard and Tim is a forward."

Paul Mann, 6-2, is another key soph operator. Paul is a center and is "still going to grow."

Froward Steve McCaugh, 6-2, is the fourth soph upon whom Warne is banking for big things in the future.

To make things even brighter in the sophomore ranks, the best players on the B team are all sophs.

Led by 6-3 Charlie Nelson, the Shark B's feature three excellent soph prospects, all of whom will move up to the varsity next year.

THEN COME some outstanding juniors.

Forward Larry Jewett, 6-0, center Stan Whitfield, 6-4 ("very green but a rugged rebounder") and guard Mike Burger, 5-10, are hustling third year men around whom Warne will build next year.

But the Oceana coach can't spend the entire 1965-66 campaign wishing for next year.

Warne has, in addition to this good young talent, some fair senior players in Steve Buckley, 5-10, Dave Fluke, 6-0, Joe Miller, 6-2, Les Smith, 6-2, and John Hollingsworth, 5-10.

Hollingsworth is thought to be the best player on the club.

"John is taking over for a long line of good guards," says Warne. "He compares favorably to some of the good Oceana guards of the past couple of seasons."

Smith, a center, broke a small bone in his leg early in the season and is just now recuperated. "He came out and played in the Menlo School game, led us in rebounding and two days later sprained his ankle badly. He is our best rebounder right now," said Warne. Smith ought to be able to play by this weekend.

BARRING ANY unforeseen disasters to this club, the feeling is quite strong that Oceana can improve last year's poor 5-14 season log and unfortunate 0-10 league ledger.

CSM Faces Tough Task In Tourney

The College of San Mateo basketball team, sporting one of its best records every entered the Modesto Tournament this week with hopes of bringing home that affair's coveted title, but the competition will be rugged.

Three Golden Gate Conference teams, including College of San Mateo, are competing in the tournament.

One team that rates as a co-favorite is Contra Costa. The Comets from San Pablo, who were the number two ranked team in the state last year, have experience and better height than last season's squad.

Vince Clemons and Gary Lloyd supply the experience, while Wes Russell, a 6-7 transfer from Bradley Univeristy, and Don Lyons, a 6-5 high school All-American, give the Comets some vitaly needed rebounding strength.

City College of San Francisco, perennial GC champion, has only one returning starter from last year's team. The Rams are led by forward Ed Wilson, center Charlie Parks, and freshman forward Eugene Williams and will be a tough oponent in the tournament.

A Bear Is Cornered

HEMMED IN on all sides, Mission High School's Billy Metcalf attempts to move laterally in a game with Westmoor in Daly City. The husky Bear, who hit 28 points, is cornered by a trio of Rams: from left, leaping, Tim Corcoran, Don Lippi and Joe Anible. Westmoor lost the game Friday, 77-68, for its fifth loss in a row this year.

NPL Clubs Lose Ten of 11 Games

Things simply must start to get better for North Peninsula League basketball teams, coaches and players agreed this week. They can't get much worse.

NPL cage units played 11 games last week and lost 10 of them for their worst single week yet in this campaign.

Onyl Half Moon Bay managed to pull out with a win. That one came last Tuesday on the Coast when the Cougars dumped tiny (112 students) Pescadero, 55-52.

But the rest of the circuit fell on dire times.

El Camino dropped a pair of close games to good competition, losing to San Lorenzo, 68-62, and San Mateo, 61-56, in overtime Friday night.

The twin defeats lowed the Colts' record to 4-3.

Westmoor lost its fourth and fifth games in a row this year when they bowed to Riordan of the Catholic Athletic League, 73-44, and Mission of the AAA, 77-68.

Terra Nova, still winelss this year, was defeated twice last week, falling to Lick-Wilmerding 80-38, and to Galileo, 56-48.

South San Francisco, playing with Greg Jones, lost its only contest of the week when Lick-Wilmerding, 87-78, in overtime Friday night.

Oceana's Sharks were the victims of two losses last week: they fell to Menlo School, 58-46, and to Crestmoor of the Mid-Peninsula League, 41-29.

D.C. Chorus in TV Date

The Daly City Community Chorus and the Belle-Tones will present their third television Christmas half-hour special, "Christmas Was Meant for Children," on Channel 4 at 4 p.m., Friday.

The program is an original script, written by Patti Stolz, director of the chorus, in collaboration with Lee Noble of KRON-TV who will appear in the show as narrator.

The children's chorus will be heard in these selections: "Japanese Christ Carol," "Wind Through the Olive Trees," "Do You Hear What I Hear?", "Sleigh Ride," and "Christmas Was Meant for Children" (theme).

The Belle-Tones, composed of the women of the Community Chorus, will present "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer" and "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day."

An informal medley around the piano of accompanist Mrs. Janet Holden will feature the baritone voices of Walter Jeter and Bob Myers and the soprano voice of Mrs. Stolz.

Taping of the show has been completed. The chorus, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, meets at 8 o'clock Thursday nights at the Westmoor Park Clubhouse.

N. County Men Attend CSM School

Thirty-five members of local police agencies have been graduated from the law enforcement certification program at College of San Mateo, it was announced last week.

All "rookie" officers, they underwent an intensive 12-week course of instruction, totaling 240 classroom hours, in which they were taught criminal law, rules of evidence, laws pertaining to arrest, search and seizure, patrol and observation techniques, race and public relations principles, traffic control and accident investigation, first aid, firearms training and defensive tactics, record-keeping and report-writing.

Clark E. Mears of the Burlingame Police Department was class president. He took part in the graduation program, held in the campus choral room, at which the featured speaker was State Sen. Richard J. Dolwig (R. Atherton).

North County graduates, by police departments were:

James J. Barron and Thomas G. Reese of Daly City.

Richard J. Comollo and Richard R. Hillman of Pacifica.

Gary H. Hopper, Larry L. McCord and Norman F. Solari of South San Francisco.

Robert E. Lansing, co-ordinator of the police science program at CSM, was the teacher.

AND CHURCH ACTIVITIES OF DALY CITY, COLMA, PACIFICA AND SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

St. Edmund's Episcopalians To Present Yule Program

Children of St. Edmund's Episcopal Church at 1500 Perez Drive in Linda Mar, will present a Christmas program during the 10 a.m. family service of morning prayer Sunday.

"What Is Christmas Really All About?" is the title of the play, which was written by Mrs. Will Traversaro, Sunday School superintendent, who will also serve as director.

The Christmas story is told in four ways simolatneoosly in this novel prodoction — by the young people acting in the play, through the singing of carols, with a Bible reader and by means of a play within a play using a flannel graph to illustrate the story.

More than 40 youngsters, from pre-school age through teenagers, will participate. Prin cipal characters will be Nora Traversaro as the grandmother; Joanne Gribble, the mother, and Lanny Dryden, Bible reader. Mrs. Elizabeth Sargent will be the organist.

All church school children will bring manger gifts, wrapped in white paper, to be presented to the creche. The layette articles are given annually to St. Luke's Hospital in San Franco.

Jack Dilles, dressed in a bishop's cope and mitre, will be the boy bishop woh will distribute treats to tht church shcool children following the service, according tot he Rev. John Fredricks, Vicar of St. Edmund's.

Broadmoor Presbyterians Set Service

The annual Chirstmas Eve Carol Candlelight Serviceof the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church at 377 87th Street, Daly City will be at 11Friday nnigt.

The service of Christmas readings, carol singing, solos and duets will be climaxed by a congregational candle lighting ceremony at midnight to honor the birth of Christ, the Light of the World.

This Sunday the 9:30 and 11 a.m. worship services and coffee times following will be observed as College Student Homecoming Sunday.

Rev. Herbert Tweedie, pastor, issues an invitation to the public to attend the Christmas Eve service and the Sunday services.

Baptists Set Study Hour For Tonight

The Prayer and Bible Study Hour of the Westside Baptist Church will meet at 7:45 tonight at the Clayton Anderson home at 3691 Exeter Drive, San Bruno.

A special feature of this service will be a carol-sing by all present, with Mrs. Clayton Anderson accompanying at the Conn organ.

Pastor David Donnelly is leading a study of the doctrine of "The Second Coming Of Christ —The Rapture."

"Operating, But Not Producing" is the topic of Pastor Donnelly's second message in a series from the Old Testament book of Malachi, at the 11 a.m. morning worship hour Sunday.

A primary church service for kindergarten and primary age children, led by Mr. and Mrs. Del Johnson, will be conducted during the latter portion of the adult worship service.

Mrs. Jeanne King will preside at the console of the Baldwin organ for this service.

B'nai Israel To Bestow Blessing

For all children born during the month of December, evening services held at Temple B'nai Israel at 8:15 p.m. will include a birthday blessing for them by Rabbi Solomon A. Shore and a special birthday cake supplied by the Sisterhood.

Lutherans To Hold Service

Carols will ring out at two Christmas worship services at Westlake Lutheran Church at Avalon Drive at Westmoor Avenue.

On Christmas eve at 7:30 p.m. the traditional candlelight service will be celebrated with the youth of the congregation, Robert Anderson, Carl Barnes, Linda Berglund, Ross LaChance, Eugenia, Lynna, and Martin Vinje, joining the pastor in bringing the Christmas story in word and carol.

"Trust; do not be afraid," is the sermon theme of Pastor Kenneth D. Hansen.

On Christmas Day at 10 a.m. the worship service and sermon will center in the theme, "The meaning of our gifts and His."

Dr. Daniel Love will join with the pastor in conducting this service of Holy Communion and the senior choir under the direction of Boyd Burnside will sing "A Child Is Born," by Elmore and "Today There Is Ringing," by Christiansen.

The Thespians

LURINE BURGESS of San Francisco embraces little Steve Ehat of Broadmoor in a scene from the Latter-day Saints' production of "Amahl and the Night Visitors." The Christmas play will be presented at 8 o'clock Tuesday, next Wednesday, and next Thursday nights at the Latter-day Saints' Stake House at 1399 Brunswick Drive in Daly City.

Latter-Day Saints Schedule A Traditional Yule Opera

"Amahl and the Night Visitors," Carlos Menotti's opera about the three kings who brought gifts to the Christ Child will be presented in Daly City at the latter-day Saints' Stake House, 1399 Brunswick at 8 p.m. on December 28, 29, and 30.

Don Herzog will sing King Melchior, Ronald Gipson is cast as King Balthazzer, and William Schelp as King Kasper.

The part of the boy will be sung by Stephen Ehat. Lurine Burgess is cast as his mother.

Ted Hopkins, pianist, will be the accompanist.

A shepherds' chorus has been trained by Miss Burgess and other accomplished musicians. "One of the most delightful scenes," Miss Burgess said, "is that showing the shepherds' dance."

The suggested donation is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

All donations will be used to retire the indebtedness on the new Stake House.

Temple Judea Sets Service

A special Chanukah Service will take place at the Temple Judea on Brotherhood Way at 7:30 Friday night.

At this time all students who were first enrolled in the Temple's religious school in September, 1965, will be consecrated.

The service will include Chanukah songs, dances and gifts of sweets to the children.

Each child will receive a miniature "Torah," a scroll written in Hebrew, containing the first five books of the Bible.

Group Sets Yule Service

Christmas services at Hope Lutheran Church at 55 San Fernando Way in Daly City will include a special Sunday School children's service to be held at 7:30 p.m. today, as well as services on Christmas eve and Christmas day, the Rev. Arnim H. Polster has announced.

On Christmas eve, the traditional candlelight service is scheduled to be held at 11 p.m.

A Christmas festival service will be held at 11 a.m. on Christmas day. No early service will be conducted that day.

Regular services at 8:30 and 11 a.m. are scheduled for Sunday.

Happy Holiday Season!

THANK HEAVEN for December and its cheery holiday mood; its bracing chill, its aroma of spicy foods, the fragrance of pine, the red of the holly berries, the soft warm glow of candles, the excited laughter of children, its hustle and bustle and the traditional music. Its a good month, but one we sometimes are grateful to see end!

Somehow, each December, people find themselves involved in more and more and it becomes easy to loose sight of what we are celebrating in the rush to finish shopping, cooking or assorted projects. In the midst of a time when we would like to be showing our love for our fellow man we are too busy to think about anything other than our immediate chores.

The fact that one group of volunteers will be working right up to the last moment on Christmas eve, to insure a bit of Christmas cheer reaches persons who might otherwise have the day pass unmarked, is really heartwarming and a true indication that for some of the spirit of giving of themselves to others is not dimmed, no matter how great the commercialization of this season may have become.

FOR FIFTY invalid couples or single persons there will be a gift, a Christmas card and a basket of holiday goodies delivered, along with three nourishing meals on Friday. The knock at the door, the cheery greeting, the remembrances and meals will be delivered by the volunteers from Meals on Wheels, a youthful organization which had a modest beginning only five years ago.

According to Mrs. Brad Colm, publicity chairman for Meals on Wheels, the volunteers have served nearly 70,000 meals in the past five years. The scope of the work has grown from three meals a day on two days each week to ten shutins, to three meals a day, three days a week for more than 50 persons. The goal for 1966 is to double the current program Mrs. Colm reports.

Based in downtown San Francisco the unit has attracted volunteers from the deep Peninsula, across the Bay to Oakland and Greenbrae in the north. Chief among the localities who have been attracted to the Meals on Wheel program are Mrs. Lloyd Gillin and Ruth Boselli. Mrs. Colm indicated the unit wishes to recruit a sizable number from the North Peninsula area during 1966.

MRS. GILLIN IS the recording secretary for the San Francisco Medical Auxiliary, one of the sponsoring organizations, and is presently engaged in the tasks of reservations chairman for the Meals on Wheel Benefit black-tie dinner-dance, Bal des Fleurs, which will be presented in the Grand Ballroom of the Fairmont Hotel on February 5.

Tickets are now on sale and may be purchased by sending your name and address plus a check for $12.50 for each person to Mrs. Gillin at 321 Northgate Avenue, Daly City. For more information about the fifth annual ball you may call WY 2-5573.

According to Mrs. Colm the ball provides 75 per cent of the money used to carry on the Meals on Wheels project. All but the actual cooking is done by volunteers so the organization is able to use all money raised or donated to purchase food and supplies and pay the salary of the cook.

The idea behind Meals on Wheels was first implimented by women's groups in England during World War II and since that time it has spread around the world, allowing people to remain in their homes who might otherwise have to be hospitalized, bringing well balanced meals to senior citizens who might otherwise live on a can of cold soup, and assuring continued contact with the outside world for some who have not left their beds in years.

The number of people who need the help of Meals on Wheels is staggering and at present a band of 50 dedicated women are doing all the typing, bookwork, driving, delivering, investigating, and assisting the cook in her busy kitchen.

Mrs. Colm emphasized the fact that move homes, apartments and lonely hotel rooms are deserving of a call from a Meal on Wheels messenger, but many more volunteers must be recruited first.

Social groups can also help by volunteering to be Friends of Meals on Wheels. Such groups donate money, utensils, frozen food or they may unleash their creative talents and provide gay favors, mats, or tray decorations of some type. There are few restrictions upon the type of help and material that the unit could use and so if you feel you might like to be a part and donate as little as one and a half hours a month working in the kitchen, driving, delivering trays, or working in your home contact Mrs. Alfred de Lorimier, 595-6892.

MRS. EDITH BARKER was the Westlake Senior Citizens member responsible for the delightful centerpieces used at the Senior Citizens Christmas party last Wednesday afternoon.

That active group climaxed its Christmas observances with a day long trip to Monterey, visiting the mission, dining on the wharf and doing casual sightseeing.

☆ ☆ ☆

THE WILLIAM WAGNER family will join Wagner at Lake Tahoe for the Christmas holidays. Wagner is appearing with the King Family at Stateline.

☆ ☆ ☆

MR. AND MRS. HARRY HOLBROOK have saddened their many friends by announcing the purchase of a new home in Foster City. They will leave their South San Francisco home in the spring.

☆ ☆ ☆

RECOVERING FROM a serious heart attack which hospitalized him more than a week ago is James Ledever of Westlake.

☆ ☆ ☆

THE MEMBERS of Tau Gamma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the home of Mrs. Thelma Loos last night for the sorority's annual Christmas party and pledge ritual.

Pledges Mrs. Telka Zioulous, Mrs. Nancy Borzick and Judy Nottingham joined the members in a holiday repast and social hour which followed the revelation of secret sisters and a gift exchange.

MARCIA PENNEY was installed Honored Queen of Bethel 308 during the group's third annual installation of officers Saturday evening.

Others installed in new posts were Lorrie Sandhills, senior princess; Vickie Garcia, junior princess; Sue Burns, marshall; Leslie Windhorst, guide; Kathy Paymiller, chaplain; Linda Price, treasurer; Linda Alexander, recorder; Donna Messer, musician; Chris Kinney, librarian; Diane Howell, fifth messenger; Bonnie Staley, fourth messenger; Sheila Ellis, third messenger; Pat Schaefer, second messenger; Debbie Sandhills, first messenger; Sandy Erwin, senior custodian; Kathy Parvin, junior custodian; Kris Paymiller, inner guard; and Tracy Chatfelter, the outer guard.

New Year's Concert Set By Orchestra

The San Francisco Symphony Orchestra again will ring out the old year with the old-world charm of "A Night in Old Vienna," New Year's Eve at Civic Auditorium.

Strauss favorites, under the baton of Vienna-born conductor Josef Krips, the orchestra's conductor and musical director, will be presented at 9 p.m. next Friday with a performance also scheduled at 8:15 next Thursday at Foothill College, Los Altos Hills.

Mary Costa, the beautiful, internationally-acclaimed star of the San Francisco and Metropolitan Opera, will be guest soloist for the program.

The gala non-subscription performances of sparkling waltzes, gay polkas and brisk marches will include: Overture to "Die Fledermaus," Tales from the Vienna Woods, Annen Polka and Jockey Polka.

Miss Costa will be soloist in Voices of Spring Waltz, Czardas, from "Die Fledermaus," and Song of Saffi from "The Gypsy Baron."

Also on the program are the Hunting Polka, Entrance March, "Der Waldmeister" Overture, Vienna Blood Waltz, Pizzicato Polka, Perpetual Motion, Acceleration Waltz, Blue Danube Waltz and Radetsky March.

Couple Announce Betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cameron of 471 Holly Avenue in South San Francisco have announced the engagement of their daughter, Norma Jean to Raymond W. Link of San Francisco.

Raymond is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Link of 540 Esplanade Street in Pacifica.

Norma Jean is a graduate of El Camino High School in South San Francisco and is employed at a social security payment center.

Raymond is a graduate of Westmoor High School and attended the College of San Mateo.

He is presently employed by the Jefferson Unified School District.

The engagement was announced at a party last Sunday.

The wedding is planned for April of 1967.

'No Exit' Dates Are Set By Pacifica Play Group

The Spindrift Playhouse production of Sartre's "No Exit" is scheduled for Saturday, January 15, it was announced last week.

Emphasis in the play, concerning the existence in hell of three persons together in one room, will be on acting.

Scenery and other stage effects will be att a minimum, according to Nathaniel Marks, director.

"Dialogue is so powerful and the characters so strong," Marks said, "that extra touches to staging can be kept minimal. Our cast is serious, well trained and with meaningful theatre background. All have acted before.

"One has won a special award in a well established theatre in Porterville. Another gained her acting skill at State college. Another has taught drama in high school. The other has school experience.

"Our discussions and interpetation of the French philosopher's drama concerning individual concepts of hell have evoked what appears to be the essence of a fine play. We all feel our efforts will be worth while in audience enjoyment of substantially good theatre."

OLM Will Hold New Year's Party

The festival committee of Our Lady of Mercy will hold its annual New Year's Eve party at 9:30 p.m. in the parish hall.

Mrs. Donald McNab is chairman. There will be dancing to Steve Balick's music, favors, and a buffet supper after the bewitching hour.

For reservations, please call Mrs. John Sullivan at PLaza 6-4071, or Mrs. Robert Walker at PLaza 5-7430.

Tickets are $15 per couple.

B'nai B'rith Unit To Discuss Plans

President Mrs. Reuben Shernoff will preside at the next meeting of the Greater San Francisco B'nai B'rith Women at 10 a.m. on Wednesday, January 5 at the home of Mrs. Seymour Zins of 7 Woodland Avenue, Daly City.

Final plans will be discussed for the final donor luncheon to be held at the San Francisco Hilton Hotel on Wednesday, February 23. Approximately 500 members are expected to attend.

Classes Closed By YWCA for 2 Weeks

The YWCA of San Mateo County announces there will be no classes held during this week or next week.

Classes will resume the week of January 3. The business office will be closed from Monday to January 2 and will open again January 3 at 10 a.m.

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

SUGAR AND SPICE is the name of the column and sugar and spice is also very much a part of Christmas cooking. Even though it's December 22, we still have time to make a few more goodies for Christmas. kinds of homemade candy.

The first kind could go by many names, maple drops, panocha or even caramel fudge. But we know it s "Doles" and it received this unusual name thusly—a good friend of mine, Harold Gunn who lives in San Francisco is an excellent candy maker.

And his grandchildren so loved these maple drops that it became a problem keeping them supplied. For they are so good that they disappeared like magic.

So in order to have equal distribution the candy was doled out a piece at a time and the name of "Doles" came into being.

DOLES

- 1½ cup sugar
- 1½ cup brown sugar
- ½ cup light syrup
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup chopped nuts

Combine the two sugars, syrup, and water in a saucepan and cook to the soft-ball stage or 238 degrees on your candy thermometer. Remove from heat add the vanilla and cool without stirring.

When it is lukewarm, beat until it's creamy and stir in the broken nutmeats. Drop by spoonfuls onto buttered paper.

☆ ☆ ☆

SINCE WE ARE talking about making candy I'd like to pass on a few candy-making tips:

When sugar and liquid are boiled together, a syrup is formed which grows thicker as the boiling continues. The thickness of the syrup determines the general type of candy that will result.

The simplest and most accurate method of determining whether the syrup is thick enough for your purpose is to measure its temperature, because the temperature rises steadily as the syrup thickens.

A candy thermometer registering up to 350 degrees is not expensive and it will make your candy making a much easier process. The thermometer I have has the various stages marked on its side which really simplifies the cooking.

But if you don't have a thermometer, here's how to test for the different stages of cooking.

Drop a little syrup into ice-cold water and pinch it between the thumb and finger:

SOFT BALL STAGE (for fondant and fudge) the syrup forms a soft ball which loses its shape immediately when removed from the water.

FIRM BALL STAGE (for caramels and nougat) the syrup forms a stiff ball which retains its shape for a second or two when removed from the water and then flattens out.

HARD BALL STAGE (for molasses taffy and soft candies to be pulled) the syrup forms a hard ball which will roll about on a cold buttered plate when removed from the water.

SOFT CRACK STAGE (for taffys and butterscotch) the syrup when dropped into water separates into threads which are hard but not brittle.

HARD CRACK STAGE (for clear brittle candies) the syrup when dropped in water separates into threads which are hard and brittle.

☆ ☆ ☆

WHEN TRAVELING across the country about 15 years ago I stopped to visit friends in Iowa and found this recipe in a newspaper there.I've used it ever since and find it most delicious.

PEANUT BRITTLE

- 3 cups white sugar
- 1 cup white corn syrup
- 1 cup water
- 1 pound shelled or salted peanuts
- ¼ teaspoon salt (omit if salted nuts are used)
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 tablespoon soda

Mix sugar, syrup and water. Cook at 250 degrees until it forms a hard ball when a small amount is dropped in cold water.

Add peanuts and continue cooking, stirring constantly until slightly carmelized (at about 300 degrees).

Remove from stove and add salt (if unsalted nuts used), vanilla, butter, and soda. Stir until frothy.

Pour onto buttered tins and spread out quickly. Break when brittle. This recipe makes over three pounds.

SO FAR I've been talking about fun things to do for Christmas. Now for another subject. There was an error in a recent applesauce cake recipe. The amount of baking soda needed was omitted. The correct amount was 1½ teaspoons.

Sometimes with all the proof-reading and checking that goes on, an error will get by us. I always re-list the ingredients when I describe the making of the recipe on the theory that when you read the directions you will notice any ingredient that might have been dropped from the original listing of ingredients. And there is always a copy of the original column in the Post-Times' office, so a phone call can clear up any questions you may have about any recipe.

Boy Scouts Hold Program

Boy Scout Troop 84 held a Court of Honor and a Christmas Party last Thursday.

The program commenced with the Scoutmaster, Robert McBride, introducing Rev. Herbert Tweedie of the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, which is the troop's sponsor, and the introduction of the committeemen.

The Court of Honor was officially opened by Scoutmaster McBride who conducted the Candle Lighting and Tenderfoot Investiture for the following new scouts; Larry Abba Kevin Brake, Paul Cantwell, Jeff Harris, Doug Lagomarsino, Steve Rehfeld, Rickey Sebben, Ronald Swain and Dan Tucker.

Institution Representative Carl Ostberg presented year pins to Emil Rehfeld, Bob Baba, Dave Clyne and Jim Tweedie.

Merit Badges were presented to Ted Baloria for Wildlife, Soil and Water, Home Repairs, Pets—David Clyne for Pioneering, and First Aid — Justin Rehfeld for Athletics, Scholarship and Public Speaking and Mike McBride for Personal Fitness.

Scoutmaster McBride awarded Totin' Chip badges to Bob Bonham, Doug Lagomarsino, Justin Rehfeld, Steve Rehfeld, Emil Rehfeld, Rickey Rodriquez, Rickey Sebben and Ed Silicani.

First Class awards went to Ted Valoria, Emil Rehfeld and Craig Price. Star Class awards were presented by Assistant Scoutmaster Ted Valoria to David Clyne, Paul Crim, Mike McBride and Ted Valoria.

The ceremony was officially closed by McBride and skits by the patrols and refreshments were served to conclude the evening.

Wedding Bells

MR. AND MRS. LEO BECK

Joy Alonso Marries Leo Laurence Beck Jr.

Joy Benita Alonso of 245 Ferndale Avenue in South San Francisco was married at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church in Daly City to Leo Laurence Beck Jr. of 255 Country Club Drive in South San Francisco.

Joy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Benito Alonso, was assisted to the altar by her father.

She wore a white, floor-length empire sheath dress with a detachable chapel train.

Her Maid of Honor was Joyce Solari.

Leo, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Laurence Beck Sr., had Weseley Muse as his best man.

Richard Beck and Gary Beck, brothers of the groom, Bill Mockel, Rod Maher and Phillip Itllian were ushers.

Jimmy Campiongo was the ring-bearer.

Church Guild To Present a Fashion Show in February

Mrs. Lee Heise, president of St. Veronica's School Guild, has named Mrs. John Vick as her chairman for the 1966 Sew and Show Fashion Show to be presented on Saturday afternoon, February 19, at the school hall.

Mrs. Vick has taken the liberty of moving St. Patrick's Day into February and will call her show "Erin Go Braugh."

Preliminary plans are in progress for this annual showing of home created fashions modeled by women and children of St. Veronica's Parish.

Special entertainment in an Irish mood will be featured as well as a raffle and door prizes.

Proceeds from the show will go to St. Veronica's School Fund.

Symphony to Play Handel's 'Messiah' During Yule Season

Handel's "Messiah," the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra's traditional Christmas week presentation, will be given a single, non-subscription performance in the Civic Auditorium at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow under the direction of Josef Krips, conductor and musical director.

The program will feature soloists Adele Addison, soprano; Frances Bible, mezzo-soprano; Richard Verreau, tenor, and Thomas Paul, bass; and the Concert Chorale, under the direction of Vincenzo Giannini.

This single performance of the "Messiah" is one of several special events in December presented by the San Francisco Symphony Association.

Maestro Krips' annual direction of this work has been acclaimed by both critics and audiences.

Founders'Day Set by Bayshore

The Bayshore P-TA will sponsor a founders' day celebration in February.

For the first time the unit will present a national honorary life membership award to a worthy recipient.

February also marks the month of the Marching Mothers, another of the unit's activities.

Look at Yule Positive Side, C of C Is Urged

Members of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, meeting for their annual Christmas luncheon Thursday in the Lake Merced Country Club, were urged to look at the "positive side of Christmas."

In the main address, Msgr. John Foudy, superintendent of the San Francisco parochial school system, noted that the celebration of Christmas, as Americans have come to know it, is "new" in this country.

He explained that the Puritans of the early days of the nation's existence downgraded the pomp and circumstance of Christmas as something associated with the Anglican Church from which they had fled to come to America.

The change in celebrating Christmas, he said, occurred when a wave of German and Irish immigrants settled in America around 1840 to 1850 and brought with them the Christmas tree and the advent wreath. And he added:

"As we look at this Christmas season, I think we should look at the positive side and what has developed over the years.

"This world, this state, this community would be a less lovely thing . . . if all the ideals, the charity of peace, the giving of gifts associated with Christmas were taken away and Christmas became just another day."

Monsignor Foudy was introduced by Jack Kendree, master of ceremonies, who had been asked to substitute for chamber president Edward Morgan, who was ill and could not be present.

After the Monsignor's talk, chamber members, their wives and guests were entertained by a 52-voice choir from Jefferson High School under the direction of Gilbert E. Crane.

Santa's Ready to Go

MEMBERS OF the Daly City Fire Department flank some of the bicycles, toys and other presents that will be distributed to children in needy families tomorrow as part of the city's annual Operation Santa Claus program. Left to right are Jimmy Langwell, Patrick Cunneen, Chief Herbert Ritzmann, one of the co-chairmen of Operation Santa Claus and Capt. Barry Griffin. Distribution of canned foodstuffs and Christmas dinners will take place Friday. (Post-Times Photo)

Eight D.C. Men Pass Bar Exams

Eight Daly City men have successfully passed the state bar examination, it was announced last week.

They are: Robert K. Birkie, Richard D. Givens, Robert Greggins, John Douglas Hedger, Dennis E. Moriarity, David Jean Palmer, William J. Schumacher and Henry H. Shelin.

S.S.F. School Land Value Up $40,000

Land that was bought by the developers of the Westborough tract for $6,000 an acre five years ago is now to be sold to the South San Francisco Unified School District for $46,000 an acre.

The price was established by Superior Judge W. Howard Hartley as he ruled on evidence submitted in a six-day trial in October.

The eight-acre Foxridge School site on Wexford Drive was set aside by the developers at the request of the district but there was no agreement on price.

The price of $6,000 an acre had been paid for the land in its raw state. In the meantime, the site had been leveled, utilities installed and streets put in.

The owners, contending that the "highest and best" use of the land was for school purposes, submitted appraisals of $530,000 and $590,000.

The district, arguing that the "highest and best" use was residential, which the land would have been if it had not been set aside for the school, presented appraisals of $241,000 and $244,000.

Judge Hartley agreed with the district's argument but established the fair market at $375,000.

2 Westmoor Juniors To Visit Europe in Summer

Two Westmoor High School juniors have been chosen as 1966 representatives in the Experiment in International Living Program.

Patricia Brennan and Kathy McGenity were chosen from a list of 13 applicants at the school to live in Europe this summer.

Two alternates named were Cheryl Kern and Eleanor Werner.

The program is a yearly affair which sends two Westmoor juniors to the European country of their choice.

Miss Brennan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Brennan of 15 Ridgefield Avenue in Daly City.

Miss McGenity is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. McGenity of 34 North Mayfair Avenue in Daly City.

A selection committee, consisting of four members of the community and four members of the Ram faculty, chose the two girls.

The applicants submitted application forms which asked them to list their personal goals for the experiment.

Leaving for Europe shortly after school is out in June, the two winners will travel and live in two different countries.

Pat will be staying in Austria and Kathy in Germany.

Each will have a foster family with whom to stay during the duration of their stay.

Mrs. Lois McNabb is in charge of Westmoor's International Friendship Club, which sponsors the Experiment in International Living Program.

Four Seized In Theft of Sports Cars

Two stop sign violations within a half hour of each other at almost the same location in Daly City ultimately led to the arrest of four 18-year old youths, driving two identical model sports cars, on stolen auto charges early last Wednesday.

Two of the youths, Daly City police said, were reportedly Navy enlisted men, wanted by the Navy Disciplinary Barracks in San Diego.

Charged with transporting stolen goods (auto) across state lines were Thomas Prida of Columbus, Ga., and William M. Bumm of Santa Clara.

Charged with auto theft were Robert Bumm of New Town, Pa., and Edward Alvarado of Santa Clara. The two Bumm youths are cousins, investigators said.

Sgt. Thomas Culley said this was the sequence of events leading to their arrest:

At about 1:30 a.m., Daly City Patrolman Richard Klass cited William Bumm on Mission Street near Crocker Avenue for a stop sign violation. Bumm was driving a Triumph TR-4 sports car. His passenger was Prida.

When Klass asked Bumm who owned the car, the youth said a friend, Alvarado, was the owner. The car carried Washington State plates. The youths then were permitted to leave.

About a half hour later, Klass and Patrolman James Van Pelt cited Alvarado for a stop violation also on Mission Street. Robert Bumm was a passenger.

Alvarado also was driving a Triumph TR-4. The car had Arizona plates.

When the officers asked who was the owner of the car, Robert Bumm said the car had been stolen. The youth also confessed that he and Prida were wanted by San Diego Naval authorities and that the other auto also had been stolen.

The other sports car was halted in San Carlos and William Bumm and Prida were arrested by the California Highway Patrol.

Classes Set For Ballet

The Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department will offer ballet classes next month.

Registration will be taken from 3:30 to 5 p.m. on these days and at these schools:

Monday at Westview and Pedro Valley.

Tuesday at Linda Mar and Ortega.

Friday at Fairmont and Pacific Manor.

Registration fee for the six-week session is $3.

Arts and crafts classes will begin on January 15 at Oddstad Park.

Rotary Troop Gets Charter

Boy Scout Troop 63, sponsored by the Daly City Rotary Club, received its charter for 1966 at a short ceremony at a luncheon meeting of the club last week. Each troop must have its charter renewed annually.

Hirsch E. Culley, district executive of the Lake Merced District of Boys Scouts, presented the charter to his son, Charles Culley, Scoutmaster of Troop 63.

D.C. Officers Are Promoted

Three Daly City police officers wore the badges and insignia of higher rank this week.

Detective Sgt. Philip LaBruzzo, in charge of youth offense investigations, was promoted to lieutenant. He has been with the police department since February of 1953.

Patrolmen Edward Guzman and John Kolbmann were promoted to sergeant. Guzman joined the department in August of 1962 and Kolbmann in August of 1961.

RADIO TAKEN

Frank Shuman of 668 Skyline Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that a homemade, two-way radio had been stolen from his pickup truck, parked in front of his house.

County College Site Question

WITH SOMETHING less than delicacy, Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke of the California State College system last week told a meeting of Santa Clara and San Mateo County college site selection committees that "the most available site is a gift."

He said that Kern County, which is to get the next state college, had offered seven separate sites—all of them free.

When Chancellor Dumke throws out a hint he really winds up and heaves it.

What we are being told, apparently, is that the need for a state college in San Mateo County is subordinate to the matter of providing a gratis site for it.

Even at this holiday season of the year when the giving of gifts brings generosity to most hearts a free college site of 320 acres is a large order. It is more than can be ordinarily expected in the Christmas stocking.

THE HINT for it is almost the crowning touch in the long history of rebuffs experienced by this county in its completely justifiable efforts to get a state college for its young people. The county has a desperate need for this facility now and the state's own projections show the urgent future need.

One of the most prosperous and tax productive counties in the state, it has poured untold millions into the building and supporting of state colleges in many far less important counties with lesser needs. The most it has been able to get for its citizens is some uncertain legislation calling for a future college here or in Santa Clara County—which already has one state college.

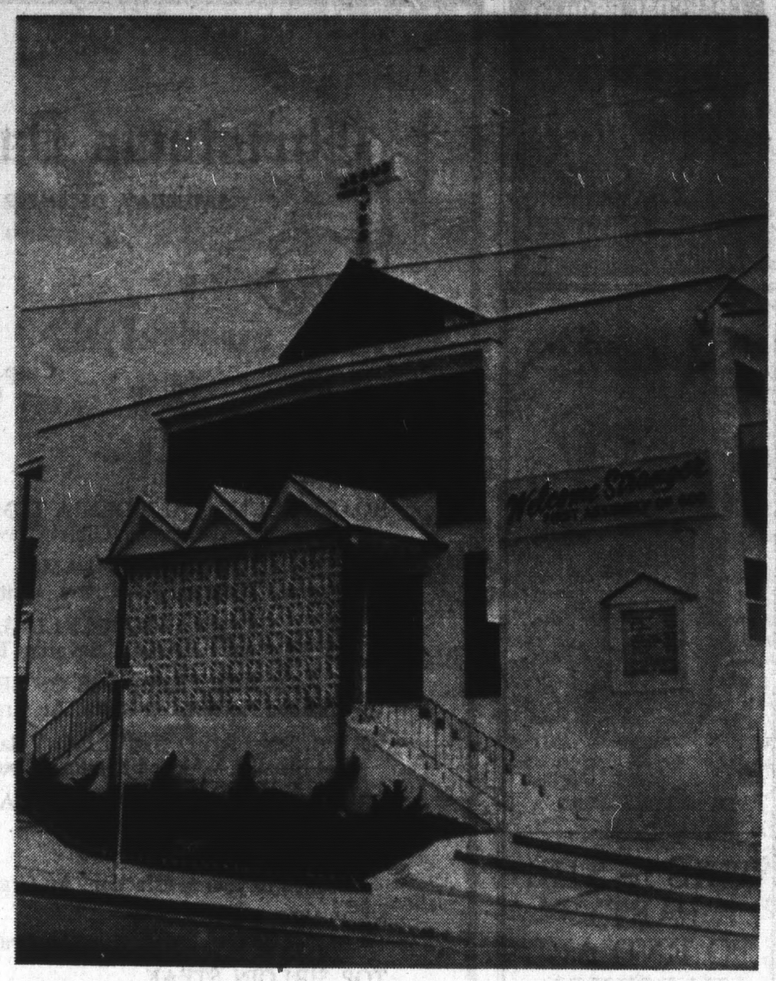
THE VIRTUALLY open call for a free site tops the list of brush-offs this county has been getting for years and years.

Now it looks like this county will have to provide a place to build a college and, who knows? have the further honor of constructing it and turning it over to the state.

The only seeming alternative is for some splendid, generous, and wealthy resident of this county to offer a college site out of the goodness of his heart.

Santa Claus, where are you?

First Assembly of God



THE FIRST ASSEMBLY of God Church at Hillside Boulevard and Arden Avenue in South San Francisco was founded by the present pastor, Rev. Carl E. Cartwright, 25 years ago. The congregation first met in family dwellings. In 1963, the present building was dedicated. There are approximately 200 members in the congregation. (Post-Times Photo)

The Celebration Of Christmas

Don Miller

A GENTLEMAN of the cloth who addressed the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce's annual holiday luncheon the other day got us thinking about this yearly festive season.

The crux of the clergyman's remarks was that instead of lamenting the general maelstrom surrounding Christmas, we should pause for a moment, lean on our history, and recall that in the early days of our nation the celebration of Christmas was a very unobtrusive occasion—almost to the point of no observance at all.

Time and the growth of our population and the influx of people from other lands has changed all that today, we have a Christmas season built on a rich backlog of custom.

Christmas, it may be said, is many things to many people but here are a few common denominators that underlie the holiday season in most homes in this land of ours.

FOR EXAMPLE, Christmas is a time of year when planning and scheduling should be in first rate order for at no other juncture on the calendar are there so many things to do, so many presents to buy, so may parties and family gatherings to attend, so many people to remember to send a card to, so much to do at the office or at the plant or around the house to make ready for the holiday season and the advent of a new year.

Yet it is precisely at this time that the National Preparation seems to be stricken with a sort of general malaise and we have all manner of people crammed into department stores at the 11th hour, STILL doing their Christmas shopping, and another outpouring of the populace at the Post Office, mailing cards and packages that should have been on their way a week or so ago.

Then, too, Christmas is a time of decoration and each December finds a few more homes on the block festooned with lights, reindeer, nativity scenes, intricately-wrought wreaths and Santa Claus figures. By the time Christmas Eve is at hand, the neighborhood is bright with hundreds of reminders that the holiday season is totally underway, not only in the minds and spirits of the citizenry but in the houses and the buildings and along the streets where they live, work and play.

CHRISTMAS, of course is also a time of traveling for at no other time in the year do the ties of family and friends pull together stronger. The press, radio and TV of the country dutifully report each holiday seaso that the trains, buses and planes are crowded and that the highways are bearing a heavy volume of traffic.

And they report this, not because this is the way it has always been and can be expected again but because, verily, the love and charity that predominate in most people at Christmas time receive their finest expression in the presence of loved ones and hence, we have this great and determined movement of mankind in the waning days of each December.

Christmas to many folks is also a time of unselfishness and generosity and of true giving and it is because of this that such inordinately valid community undertakings as Operation Santa Claus in Daly City will again receive wide, public support.

And because it will, one of the most heart-warming scenes to occur in any community will be repeated a hundredfold in Daly City Saturday morning when the scampering of a host of tiny feet will lead to a raft of surprises beneath gaily-decorated evergreens—surprises that many a heartsick mother or father earlier would not have thought even remotely possible for this Christmas of 1965.

The spirit of giving that settles over the holiday season is reflected in countless other ways, some monumental, some almost seemingly inconsequential.

Perhaps in no other way is this more evident than by glancing at the small, plastic contribution box that has stood on the magazine counter at the drug store or near the restaurant cash register for many months, pretty much neglected, until now it's Christmas time again and somehow, folks seem to find a use for that loose change they hadn't been able to before.

THEN, TOO, Christmas is a time of goodwill. And though the cynics may scoff and the scrooges may sneer at the very mention of the word, it is a fact that despite the uproar and the vortex of holiday shopping, people wear their friendliest smiles around this time of year—and they mean it.

Distant friends become a little less distant, old enmities often fail to make it through the New Year, the boss's routine "good morning" has a real ring of cheer in it, the neighbor who threatened to call the police if he found your dog in his backyard again is somehow there at the front door, asking you over for a bit of holiday cheer.

People you haven't spoken to all year you're speaking to, the bus driver who never greeted you with more than a grunt since you started riding a while back startles you with a honest-to-goodness "hello," people you'd become convinced could not smile are smiling—and so it goes.

It's a general outpouring of goodwill and it's not to be denied. And you're not about to let it be denied.

☆ ☆ ☆

CHRISTMAS ALSO is a time of music, of beautiful music, of carols that have been sung for centuries and will probably be sung for centuries more.

And no matter what your beliefs or how you sum it all up, you can't help but feel a little nostalgic when in a quiet moment in the house when the kids are asleep and hear on the radio the soft strains of "Silent Night," being sung by a children's choir in a huge cathedral.

But more than anything else, Christmas is a time of year when two simple words can sum up a world of compassion and regard by man for his fellow man — a universal greeting that knows no race nor national boundary nor harsh reality of war, a couple of words we all will be saying with great sincerity in the next couple of days and something we'd like to wish you all right now—Merry Christmas!

Better Business

Fake Charities Cause Problem

Lorene Beasley

AN ENDLESS STREAM of unordered merchandise fills the Christmas mail of businessmen who are too often the targets of questionable advertising solicitations, directory promotions, charity appeals and deceptive schemes. The recipient of unordered merchandise is not obligated to pay for or return it. The merchandise should not be used and, if in a reasonable period of time it is not picked up by sender, it may be discarded.

People who fall for fake advertising and charity solicitations have been known in the past as a sucker or mullet. The popular name in use at the present time is "gopher." The confidence man figures that a certain percentage of business people will "gopher" anything in the way of advertising or charities.

THE FOLLOWING organizations have been the subject of many inquiries in the past weeks:

THE HOPE SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND, Springfield, Illinois, has sent out unordered Christmas cards with a request for a remittance of $1.25 or more. It has been an Illinois non-profit corporation since May, 1957. However, it is not located at 3826 Olive Street which is supposed to be the origin of the unordered cards. In June 1961, Hope School entered into a five-year contract with the American Mailing Consultants of St. Louis. Under this contract the school receives 15 cents per unit, the American Mailing Consultants receive $1.10 per unit for each box sold at $1.25. All expenses in connection with the campaign are paid by American Mailing Consultants.

ASSOCIATION OF HANDICAPPED ARTISTS, INC., Rand Building, Buffalo, is sending Christmas cards with an appeal to pay one dollar. The Association states that 80 per cent of their expense is represented by allowances and scholarships to handicapped artists. There are 80 artists in the Association—7 reside in the U.S.A. Full expenses and costs have never been disclosed. This is a commercial organization, not a charity.

ST. LABRE INDIAN SCHOOL AND MISSION, Ashland, Montana, is incorporated under the laws of Montana. The most Rev. Wm. J. Condon, D.D., bishop of the Diocese, is the responsible head of the institution. The mission conducts and maintains a boarding school, which is fully accredited by the Department of Education of Montana, for 319 North Cheyenne children. The school mails out jewelry and Indian dolls in an appeal for contributions. In previous years fund-raising expenses were aproximately 25 per cent of contributions.

ASTHMATIC CHILDREN'S FOUNDATION, Miami Beach, Florida. This season's mail campaign were individualized Christmas stickers with a request for a donation to "raise the needed funds to put into full operation, the new school and medical center which was recently completed by the National Foundation for Asthmatic Children."

THIS FOUNDATION originnally operated from Denver where it was established in 1962 to maintain asthma treatment centers and to support education and research in allergy. The treatment center in Miami Beach was dedicated on February 7, 1965, and is reported to be treating patients.

Fund raising is almost entirely by the mailing of unordered name stickers and an offering of safety signs. This service is operated by professional handlers under contract. The Foundation has refused any financial information to National Better Business Bureau. In addition to this, it has refused to give other Better Business Bureaus throughout the country a financial statement upon request. It denied a report to the Solicitation Committee of the City of Miami Beach and for this reason the Foundation is not allowed to solicit in Miami Beach.

MISSIONHURST, Arlington, Virginia, a Catholic Order, mails out Praying Hands key chains with an appeal for the starving, sick and injured in Haiti, Indonesia, and orphans throughout the world. Recipients who fail to forward donations receive a reminder. No financial statement has been received by the Bureau. Mailings from Missionhurst are postmarked Chicago and Washington, D.C. Individuals interested should contact the Chancery Officer of the Roman Catholic Diocese in this area.

No one wishes to deny help to those truly in need of help. The Better Business Bureau has found in many of its investigations that seventy-five cents to ninety cents out of every dollar goes to some promoter operating strictly for the profit he receives from a "charity appeal." Before donating, check with your Better Business Bureau to make certain that you are giving to a legitimate organization.

Carol IS Show Biz

Barbara Bladen

CAROL CHANNING walked into the room and we had every reason to expect everyone to stand up and applaud, like they do to Broadway stars in New York at restaurants like Sardis. San Francisco is self-conscious when it comes to displaying emotions like that.

It was the Bellogia Room of the Hilton Hotel and the big-eyed blonde with the empty rain barrel voice had the waiters and patrons bugging their eyes and craning their necks to stare at the incomparable star of the musical, "Hello, Dolly," which is the toast of her native city.

There is no one more "show business" than Carol. She eats it up, breathes, thinks, lives theatre. On her only vacation since the smash show opened in November, 1963 (a few days before Kennedy's assassination), she worked on a television special with George Burns and David McCallum, due to be shown February 18.

"It was a marvelous vacation. I laughed, joked, danced, and never had such a good time. Some people have fun playing golf or tennis, for me it's performing. I came back to the show completely rejuvenated."

THOSE WHO HAVE seen the show aren't surprised to see Carol come into a restaurant, ask for a hot plate and serve up her own food from a large thermos jug she carries in a tote bag purse. She has to eat all that food on stage, they think, so she's probably on a diet.

Not so. Carol doesn't eat all that food and she has never dieted. But she does avoid all spices, salt, pepper, condiments, and especially meat tenderizers and preservatives. They make her ill so she has all her meals prepared by her maid in the hotel or in the dressing room: Plain food, usually vegatables and a meat combination.

"I'm like a boxer in training. If I eat carefully, I can get through eight shows a week without a moment's worry of feeling sick or tired. That's important to the show and fair to audiences."

HER ONSTAGE meal, which is one of the highlights of the second act, is interminable. It's a nightly variety of chicken, turkey, quail, rabbit, or pheasant and a box of Kleenex. The original diet was of spun sugar but that came to an end when Carol figured she was consuming nine pounds of sugar a week.

"We knew Jerry Epstein who worked with Charles Chaplin. In a movie where the comedian had to eat a string of sausages without stopping, he used a specially made rice paper. He suggested wetting the Kleenex and then searing it in a 450-degree oven. It comes out like big, puffy potato balls but wads into a spitball immediately." She deposits them in a napkin periodically and the illusion is perfect. Much of it is achieved through pantomime, too.

She's delighted to be back home and vice versa. "I'm built for long runs. Don't know any better. It started with 'Lend an Ear' (two years), then 'Gentelmen Prefer Blondes' (three years), but they replaced my role for the touring company. That's why I had it written into my contract that I play in San Francisco."

"YOU ONLY KNOW you're in a hit after the reviews come out. Before that, with tryouts in New Haven, Philadelphia or Washington, even if the audiences love it, you could bomb in New York."

She throatily went on to describe her anxiety over the preview performances of "Dolly." "When Washington raved, we were worried. That's a bad sign. They're not especially discriminating.

Yule Greeting Quickens Pulse

Samuel Chandler

"OUT OF THE distant past," wrote Lillian Eichler, "comes a whispered greeting that warms the heart of humanity—Merry Christmas! It echoes and re-echoes across the long ages. It throbs through the generations of life while kingdoms rise and fall, while men and nations move like checkers on a checkerboard."

"Merry Christmas! It stirs the heart like some beautiful old memory. It quickens the pulse like a passionate violin."

Let us not suppose that Christmas is for children alone. Countless artists assure us that a mature mind is required to recognize the deep, sacred significance behind the tinsel and the babbles and the triteness of holiday merchandising.

Charles Dickens points the way with his Christmas stories. He wrote them "to awaken some loving and forbearing thoughts, never out of season in a Christian land."

☆ ☆ ☆

THUS HE SHOWS us grown men learning goodness and gaining happiness from the Christmas season. In one of his stories the porter of a "breezy, goose-skinned, blue-nosed, red-eyed, stoney-toed, tooth-chattering place" spends Christmas Eve with goblins who live in bells and grave stones.

With appropriate kicks and belly punches, they show him that Christmas is a time to resolve to live above the black clouds and troubled waters that "break a man's slumbers."

At the end of his famous "Christmas Carol," Dickens lets an adult learn what he hopes all mature people will achieve. Old Scrooge cries "No Spirit! Oh no! No! I will honor Christmas in my heart and try to keep it all the year. I will live in the past, the present and the future. The spirits of all three shall strive within me. I will not shut out the lessons they teach."

POETS, TOO, write of Christmas to awaken the inherent goodness of mature minds. Many speak with W. H. H. Murray "Strong hands to weak, Old hands to young, around the Christmas board . . . The false forget, the foe forgive, for every guest will go, and every fire burn low. Forget, forgive, for who may say that Christmas Day may ever come again."

John Milton, immortal Shakespeare, B. Y. Williams, Emerson, Longfellow — the list of poets who have left lessons for Christmas is long. Even the cynics like Ralph Bergengren leave a thought to consider: "Christmas itself may be called into question, If carried too far, it creates indigestion."

Some of the most meaningful paintings and photographs carry a message that enriches Christmas for those who can understand it. As one critic wrote after viewing Merson's Repose in Egypt, "Thy vigil is ended, O Sphinx! In thine own bosom lies the answer. This little child is He who shall teach Man his meaning. Out of the fountain of Immortal love He came, into the deep Immortal Love shall He go and all between . . . is watered by the river of Immortal Love like His!"

☆ ☆ ☆

MOST CHRISTMAS music enriches the holidays for the person who can appreciate its magnificence. Such people are led to observations akin to that of J. H. Edwards: "Christianity is the religion of spiritual song . . . It calls for the co-operative activity of imagination, understanding and purposive will . . . Nothing but soul can put soul into music."

Christmas music is intended to be as a scholar wrote in Worldbook Encyclopedia, "an expression of joy, hope, love, and almost every other good human feeling."

To make Christmas merry today, a book of customs advised its readers to borrow a bit of old-fashioned foolishness, add to it the flavor of steaming plum pudding and popcorn, sprinkle it well with a measure of good cheer and serve with a sprig of mistletoe.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

I would just like to know what makes the appraiser think the property in this part of Daly City is so valuable and to re-appraise it at such an astronomical figure.

No one around here can grow anything on the back third of their lot (25x150). We don't have even a 'smidgeon' of a park, the library was built during the year "one"; ditto the Post Office. No shopping center. Transportation, so, so.

The building going on around here is disgraceful in design. Who wants it?

Most outrageous of all, the 13 cent or 18 cent raise (whichever it is) of the Jefferson Elementary School District. Now they have the consummate gall to ask us to vote for a $15-million bond issue.

Good grief, they had better come to their senses. How much more gouging are we going to have to take?

Won't they be satisfied until they kill the goose that lays the golden egg? Isn't a little economy and belt tightening in order? In fact, in all phases of our county government?

Results of appeals to the Board of Supervisors, and George Reilly of the State Board of Equalization have been nil. Everybody's hands are tied.

What gives?

Mrs. W. L. Richard

Daly City.

BRIGHT LIGHTS

Unusual Christmas Gifts And Santa Claus Tips

AT THIS TIME OF THE FAST-MOVING YEAR, a restaurant and entertainment editor wishes he were SANTA CLAUS so he could slip down chimneys and usher endless customers through the front doors of every establishment—no matter what the occasion—a table for two by the window, a party get-together, or a large banquet. "BRIGHT LIGHTS" which lists outstanding restaurants and niteries in the Bay Area and on the Peninsula, will try to do just that. When selecting your fun and dine out headquarters from these pages, rest assured you'll receive the "red carpet" treatment, plus food and drink to match. If it were in your Bright Lighter's power to whisper words in the pink ear of Mr. Claus, it would be to gift N. Y. PALMER, general manager of EMERSON MURFEE'S VILLA CHARTIER and LANAI, with a Walkie Talkie so the office force could keep "tabs" on him. Once away from his desk, he seems to go into space . . . Find a buyer for ANDY CHRISAF'S television set which is on sale for $115 (maybe less, if you talk faster than he does). Andy owns the 133 B Street restaurant where I coffee and doughnut up every a.m. The only thing missing here for the morning sport gab sessions is a pot belly stove.

Joe Cohen Deserves The "Works" From Santa

A SPECIAL REMINDER TO "M. CLAUS": Don't forget Joe Cohen's stocking—and I'm speaking of the popular general manager of Bay Meadows Race Track and California Jockey Club. To mention only one of the countless kind deeds performed by Mr. Cohen, this year, he was responsible for raising many a dollar for the Blind Chinese Choir when they were recent visitors in the Bay Area. Mr. Cohen is a modest man, Santa, so please see that he gets the "works" . . . If it's possible to gift wrap a complete new, stainless steel kitchen, leave one for Joe Selmi at the J and G Restaurant. Not that it's needed, but in this jet age one should always have a "spare" in all fields . . . What to put under the Christmas tree of the Licata family, Nina, Vince, Tony and Louis, may present a problem. Perhaps a personally-owned ocean would do the trick—as you know they serve everything that swims or appears under water, at their Vince's Italian and Sea Food Restaurant . . . Raymond Cook, personable manager of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, would be interested in his own art gallery. Understand he can "brush" things up in fine style . . . "L. B." Okuno, one of our future great artists, deserves an around-the-world cruise and a stop-off in every port in order to paint. I'll be first at the post office to pick up the oils . . . Another Santa stop would be at the Park Avenue Motel Lake Tahoe (South Shore), which houses Jerry Barber and family. A huge reservation book filled to capacity—from December, 1965 through June, 1966—would please them very much . . . While Santa is in the Lake Tahoe area, Warren DeMaris, assistant manager of Barney's Casino, rates a fireplace gift. Since this gent is a "boot fancier," why not leave him a pair of alligators. Different, to say the least.

Joe Cohen

Time For Nick Gust's Highrise Apartment

CONTINUING TO "BUZZ" SANTA'S EAR, I'd ask him to remind Nick Gust, the "unofficial mayor of Pacifica," that some years ago he mentioned building a high rise apartment in the vicinity of his Nick's and Turtle restaurants. So I think it's high time he did in 1966 . . . Take every kiddie in the territory, along with their moms and dads, to see Frank and Fannie Torres' Montara Beach Hotel Christmas display. The huge bells and lovely angels that decorate the interior are all made by hand . . . Lew Lehr would find the "pink slip" to one of the finest golf courses in the land under his Christmas tree, plus a new set of clubs for every day in the year. A special mink farm for his attractive wife, Edith. Instead of having to "trap" Lew into purchasing one, she could select the coat—mink by mink . . . See that Mountain View had a "Miss America Contest" and the one and only judge to be Frank Dennison, the "Sultan" of the Caravan Inn, whose eye for beauty is the greatest . . . A particular medal would go to George Mardikian, the world famed restaurateur, author, lecturer and ambassador of good will, not only for his wonderful Omar Khayyam's food, but for his personal contribution of kind deeds throughout the world . . . A jeweled crown for Enrico Romano, the Pacifica "pizza king," and his mother, who could easily be named the "pizza queen." A royal feast awaits you at Romano's restaurant.

Nick Gust

More Santa Suggestions — Stop At Foster's

WHEN THE NAME FOSTER'S is mentioned in any conversation, you usually think of chicken. And, Mr. Santa man, you should be no exception. Especially when you're in the vicinity of 29th Avenue and El Camino, San Mateo. Also attach a trailer to your sleigh and stock up with Foster's fruit cakes, which Foster's President Henry Solomon has instructed his right hand man, Hugh Visick, to have available to you. It's a natural gift for the Holidays. In case you feel pangs of hunger after a big night's work, scan the Christmas menu at Foster's Pancake and Chicken House. You'll find more than chicken to please your dining appetite . . . A peculiar thought for a Noel gift would be for Hyatt House General Manager Ed Sullivan to present Orchestra Leader Bob Wellman with the pen he used for first signing a contract here. It must have been for a two-week's engagement—already it's been several years. Guess you would call this a "steady job?" . . . Last, but far from being least in my thoughts, go to what the well dressed man will be wearing in 1966. If you are thinking about this, too, stop in Bennett's Jewelry Store and meet Sid Bennett—he's the "Dapper Dan" for '66 . . . If I failed to mention what I'd like to give you personally for Christmas, I know Santa Claus will take it from here—and I'll take it from there in Bright Light's next edition on Tuesday, Dec. 28. A MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL!!!

Dance Class To Begin Next Month

Bill and Helen Morrow will start their dance classes on January 4 at the Westlake School multi-use room. Their classes will be:

Beginner I at 7:30 p.m. every Tuesday, and Intermediate I at 8:30 p.m.

The Morrows' classes, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, not only teach the skill of social dance, but impart to the participants the same feeling as attendance at a party.

The popularity of the class is indicated by the move from Westlake Park Clubhouse to the larger facility at Westlake School.

The many couples who have completed their beginner course are all now moving on to the intermediate I class.

Lessons cost $6 per couple for five weeks.

The Morrows teach approximately 650 people social dance through public recreation departments during the week.

Broadmoor Unit To Hear Speaker

The congregation of the Broadmoor Church of the Nazarene in Daly City will hear guest minister Rev. A. Tieszen of the Broadmoor Village at the 10:50 a.m. worship service Sunday.

His sermon subject will be "Peace on Earth". Christmas music will be provided by the Tieszen family.

Rev. Tieszen is the business manager of Simpson Bible College in San Francisco.

Brutality Is Charged In Coast Suit

A Pacifica man who was convicted in September of a charge of disturbing the peace has filed a $169,000 suit for damages in superior court, accusing the officer who arrested him of illegal arrest and brutality.

In the suit, Bernard P. McCabe, 23, of 1124 Rosita Road, states that after Pacifica Police Officer Charles M. Roberts stopped his car on Crespi Drive on Dec. 6, 1964, he was forcibly handcuffed.

While still handcuffed, the suit charges, Roberts knocked McCabe to his knees, forced his body back over his heels and threatened to hit him with a stick.

The complaint asks $34,000 compensatory damages and $135,000 exemplary damages.

Police department records show that McCabe was arrested for drunken driving and resisting arrest.

He was convicted nine months later of disturbing the peace and was fined $56, given a 30-day suspended sentence and placed on summary probation for six months.

Seacliff Church Plans a Service

The Seacliff Community Church of Daly City will hold its second annual Christmas Eve service from 11 p.m. to midnight Friday.

The annual Christmas program will be presented at 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

Sirloin Tip Best Entree If Braised

Pungent or fragrant, subtle or strong, herbs can give distinctive flavor to the pot-roast, that moist-heat method of giving tenderness to certain beef cuts.

Should you wish a boneless meat cut for pot-roast as a change, try sirloin tip. This comes from the hindquarter, near the area from which round steaks are cut.

POT-ROAST ROYAL

- 4 to 5-pound beef sirloin tip pot-roast
- 3 tblspoons lard or drippings
- 1 tablespoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 2 teaspoons basil
- ½ teaspoon thyme
- ½ teaspoon cumin
- 1 cup water
- Flour for gravy, if desired

Brown pot-roast in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings, add salt, pepper, basil thyme, cumin and water. Cover tightly and cook slowly 3 to 3½ hours or until tender. Thicken cooking liquid with flour for gravy, if desired. 8 to 10 servings.

HOT WALNUTS IN THE SHELL

- 1 large grapefruit
- 3 medium or large oranges
- 2 tablespoons clover honey
- 1 to 2 tablespoons finely diced candied ginger (soften in hot water before cutting)

Using a sharp knife on the fruit, cut away the rind in strips from top to botton so no white membrane remains. Cut sections away from idviding membrane. Do all this over a bowl and save all juice. Arrange sections away from dividing membjuice and mix with honey and ginger; pour over sections. Chill until serving time. Makes 4 servings.

TURKEY SALAD

- 3 to 4 cups diced roast turkey
- 1 cup paper-thin celery crescents
- Mayonnaise and white wine vinegar.
- Lettuce
- 6 to 12 slices bacon, crisply cooked and crumbled

Mix together the turkey and celery with enough mayonnaise and wine vinegar to moisten and flavor. Arrange on luttuce. Sprinkle with bacon. Makes 6 servings.

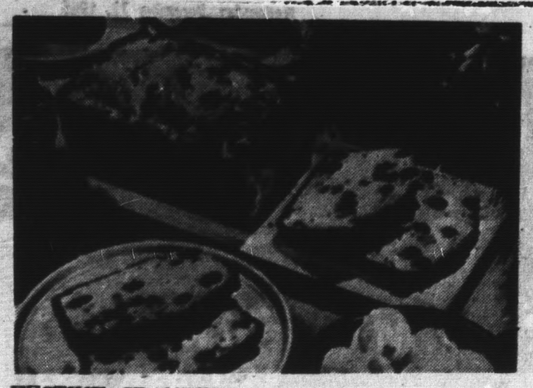
Crabmeat Savory In Casseroles

With king crab and carbmeat plentiful in Peninsula markets, you may wish to try this recipe.

CRABMEAT CASSEROLES
CRUSTY ROLLS
ALMOND GREEN BEANS
SALAD BOWL
ICE CREAM AND SHERBET-BEVERAGE
CRABMEAT CASSEROLES

- 4 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1 tablespoon chili sauce
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon each curry powder and Worcestershire sauce
- 1 can (7½ ounces) king crab with tendons removed, drained
- 3 slices bread, trimmed and cut into tiny squares

Make a white sauce with 2 tablespoons of the butter, the flour and milk; remove from heat; stir in the chili sauce, lemon juice, curry powder and Worcestershire. Arrange crab in 3 individual glass pie plates (6x1-inch). Pour hot sauce over crab. Melt remaining 2 tablespoons butter and mix with bread; spinkle over sauce. Broil so crab heats and crumbs brown in 7 to 10 minutes. Makes 3 servings.



FESTIVE CRANBERRY BREAD give a cheerful touch to many winter occasions, such as a morning get-together or a family dessert. The flavor is delightful and the recipe requires a mnimum of effort.

Good Smells of Baking Seem to Fill the Air Today

Good smells of baking seem to fill the air during wintertime . . . aromas which whet appetites and keep your family anxiously awaiting the first warm slices.

One of the easy to prepare kinds of baked goods are the quick breads. You simply add the liquid ingredients to the dry ingredients and bake. There's no waiting for the bread to rise before placing in the oven.

Now that cranberries are in plentiful supply, why not bake a Festive Cranberry Bread? It adds a deliciously cheerful touch to many winter occasions. You'll enjoy serving it for breakfast, a morning or afternoon coffee, with a meal, or as a dessert.

The combination of orange juice and convenient bottled lemon juice as the liquid in the recipe gives the bread a delightfully fruity flavor. And chopped pecans add a nice crunchiness to the texture.

Festive Cranberry Bread will also create a thoughtful gift for the holidays. Gifts made by hand are always appreciated most. And the flavor will offer a nice contrast to all the sweet things that abound this time of year.

Festive Cranberry Bread

- 2½ cups sifted flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon baking soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1¼ cups sugar
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- ½ cup orange juice
- 1-3 cup bottled lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons melted shortening
- 1½ cups cut cranberries
- ½ cup chopped nuts

Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt; mix in sugar. Combine beaten egg, orange juice, bottled lemon juice and melted shortening. Add liquid ingredients to dry ingredients. Stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Fold in cranberries and nuts. Pour into a greased 9 x 5-inch loaf pan. Bake in a 350 degree F. oven about 1¼ hours, or until done.

Pork Apple Salad Idea

Leftover roast pork diced or cut in cubes gives a meaty variation to Waldorf salad (apples, celery, nuts and mayonnaise). Serve with a thick creamy soup for a satisfying supper.

WHEN THE CHILDREN beg to help during the holidays, put them to work making candy. The peanut butter popcorn balls and uncooked fudge shown here are not only easy to make, but a joy to eat.

Let Children Make Candy To Keep in the Holiday Spirit

"Let me help." "I wanta cook, too." "What can I make?" Once they get caught up in the holiday spirit, children want to help with everything from decorating to cooking, to making and wrapping gifts.

It's the smart mother who can come up with enough ideas to keep the small fry happy and occupied throughout the sometimes long holiday vacation. This is a good time to bring out the neglected loom for weaving pot holders and a good time to revive that lovely tradition of making spicy pomander balls by sticking oranges or apples with whole cloves. Since children tire easily, select very small oranges or apples and for the wee ones you might even use a kumquat.

What children really like most to do is to make candy and other sweets, especially if they're given permission to sample their goodies. It's important to keep the candy simple, yet fun to make.

Two choices are given here. One is a peanut butter popcorn ball; the other an easy chocolate fudge. The peanut butter balls can be wrapped in cellophane and tied with ribbon for Christmas tree decorations, and the chocolate fudge can be packed in tiny boxes as gifts for young friends.

Whether they make the candy as decorations and gifts or just for eating, they're sure to have fun doing it.

Peanut Butter Popcorn Balls

½ cup light corn syrup
¼ cup sugar
½ cup creamy or chunk style peanut butter
2 quarts poppde corn

Combine corn syrup and sugar in 1-quart saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to boil and sugar is completely dissolved. Remove from heat. Blend in peanut butter. Immediately pour mixture over popped corn in bowl. Stir until evenly coated. Shape into balls. Makes 12 medium balls.

Easy Fudge

¼ cup margarine
1 cup sugar
¾ cup Bosco fortified chocolate syrup
2½ cups sifted confectioners sugar
½ cup chopped pecans or walnuts

Combine margarine, sugar and syrup in heavy 2-quart saucepan. Bring to boil over medium heat, stirring constantly until sugar is dissolved. Reduce heat and boil gently 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat. Let stand 1 minute. Stir in confectioners sugar and nuts all at once. Beat until fudge is smooth. Quickly turn into lightly greased (8 x 8 x 2-inch) pan. Cool. Cut into squares. Makes about 1½ pounds.

A Fireside Snack for a Cool Night

Spending an evening by the fireside? Or coming in from a snappy session at skiing, ice skating or sleigh riding?

Whichever the occasion, a meaty snack type sandwich offers good appetite satisfaction when served with a mug of hot chocolate, tea or freshly brewed coffee.

There's distinctive flavor in a combination of deviled ham with cream cheese and apricot preserves. These can be put together 6 to 8 hours in advance of serving.

Ham Gems

2 cans (2¼ ounces each) deviled ham
Salad dressing
8 slices white bread
4 lettuce leaves
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheees, softened
1 tablespoon milk
4 slices whole-wheat bread
Butter or margarine
¼ cup apricot preserves

Spread salad dressing evenly on one side of 4 white bread slices. Spread deviled ham over salad dressing. Top with lettuce leaves. Combine cream cheese and milk. Spread on one side of whole wheat bread slices. Place plain side down on lettuce leaf. Spread butter or margarine on one side of remaining white bread slices. Spread apricot preserves over butter or margarine using 1 tablespoon preserves per bread slice. Place on top of cream cheese, preserve side down. Cut each sandwich into thirds or quarters. Yield: 4 triple deck sandwiches.

Oriental Flavor Treat For Entrees

Looking for a new flavor treat in entrees?

Select the most thrifty of the pork shoulder section and give them Chinese flair in preparation. These are the round bone or slender blade bone steaks which are cut one-half inch thick.

Marinate first in delicious liquid seasonings of honey and soy sauce, lightly tucked with ginger. Cook by baking to develop flavor, then serve with a thickened mustard sauce.

Chinese Pork Shoulder Steaks

4 to 6 pork shoulder steaks, cut ½-inch thick
1 beef bouillon cube
1-3 cup hot water
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon ginger
1 tablespoon salt
¼ cup soy sauce
cup soy sauce
Mustard sauce, if desired

Dissolve bouillon cube in hot water. Combine salt, ginger, sugar, honey and soy sauce. Marinate in refrigerator for two hours or overnight, turning them occasionally. Remove steaks from marinade and place on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) one hour. Serve with mustard sauce, if desired. Four to six servings.

Mustard Sauce

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 tablespoon flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
¾ teaspoon prepared mustard

Melt butter or margarine. Stir in flour. Add salt and milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add small amount of sauce to mustard, mixing thoroughly, then add to remaining sauce. Serve hot with Chinese Pork Shoulder Steaks. Yield: Approximately one cup sauce.

Vitamin Retention

Neither thiamine (Bitamin B1) nor riboflavin can be stored by the body in any quantity, so foods rich in them should be eaten daily. Liver is the best natural source of riboflavin while pork and pork sausage are best "naturals" for thiamine.

Both of these vitamins are water soluble. This means they lose a lot of their punch when cooked in liquid. What's the remedy? Use the liquid in which they're cooked for soups, sauces or gravy!

Christmas to all...

Ram Music Pupils Are Initiated

Initiated into the Modern Music Society were 12 Westmoor High School students. Officer Mike Shackeleford presided as the initiates donned choir robes for the formal ceremony.

Ranging from sophomores to seniors, new members are: Russ Kerger, Richard Zimmerman, Michelle Genereaux, Don Kane, Karan Palmer, Bill Ross, Brenda Wells, Betty Hodghiks, Marilyn Mattson, Maureen Glass, John Spencer and Ellen Bodamen.

With these new members, total membership in Westmoor's Tri-M is over 40. Tri-M, or Modern Music Masters is an honor society for music students.

Meeting only when worthwhile talent in the arts can be presented, or for listening to speakers of special interest, the goal of the society is to encourage better and more discriminating habits in performing and listening to music.

Planners Reject Rent-a-Car Sign

The Daly City Planning Commission last week turned down an application for a sign advertising a new rent-a-car operation in a gas station.

Commission members contended that the use of a gas station for renting cars was a policy that had not yet been established in the city.

The application for the sign had been filed by Federal Sign and Signal Company of San Francisco. The sign would be erected at Fred's Westlake Shell Station at 505 Skyline Drive.

City Planner Edward Lawson said if it was determined that a rent-a-car operation was not one of the uses allowed by a gas station permit, the operators would have to apply for a special use permit.

At the request of John C. Smith of 243 Station Avenue, the commission deferred action on his request to run a coin-operated car wash at 999 Hillside Boulevard.

The car wash has been opposed by neighbors.

Commissioners told Smith they were opposed to the car wash because it would be inappropriate for the neighborhood, would be noisy and would add to traffic problems.

The commission, however, said it might look more favorably on the application if Smith brought in a "radically new idea" for the car wash operation.

In other action, the commission:

Approved the rezoning of property on the south side of Eastmoor Avenue from Westmoor High School to St. Francis Boulevard from multiple-family status.

The property is included in the proposed Lakeview Park Subdivision adjacent to Westmoor. The Daly City Council had withheld approval of the subdivision plans, pending action by the Planning Commission on the rezoning.

Approved a resolution, calling for the widening of San Fernando Way. A public hearing on the widening will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday, January 11, in the Daly City Hall.

Deferred action on an application by Dale Farnow Company of San Francisco to build apartments in a commercially zoned district at 255 Eighty-eighth Street.

The commission told the applicants that because of the commercial zoning, the building would require a more expensive type of construction to fulfill fire code regulations.

Accepted the withdrawal of an application by the Second Baptist Church at 173 San Diego Avenue to erect a new structure at 664 Bellevue Avenue. The church said its plans could not meet the city's building requirements.

Approved an application from Regal Oldsmobile Company of San Francisco for a used car lot at 12 Price Street. The lot will be an extension of a present lot at 7255 Mission Street.

The commission directed the company to fence in the property, to control lighting so it would not disturb neighbors and to present sign plans to the commission for approval.

Approved a permit for William Wilson Sr. and Walter Bullard of 6582 Mission Street for an on-sale beer and wine bar at 6582 Mission Street.

Deferred action on an application filed by David Friedenberg, an attorney at 375 South Mayfair Avenue, for a permit to erect a general office building on four lots between Eighty-ninth and Ninetieth Streets, west of Sullivan Avenue.

Presbyterians Set Program

A special program entitled, "The Other Wise Man" based on a story by Henry Van Dyke, will be presented 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Pedro Valley Presbyterian church.

The story is an account of the significance of gifts, highlighted by special music and the singing of familiar Christmas Carols.

Children will be participating in the White Gift Offering with their money being used in our Church's missionary work with needy children, and canned goods being used by our Board of Deacons in their local ministry.

Deaths

MARGARET DEY

Mrs. Margaret Voohies Dey, 88, 834 Circle Court, South San Francisco, died December 12 at a San Bruno convalescent hospital after a long illness. She was a native of Illinois, and a resident here 25 years.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Anabel Farnsworth, San Bruno.

Services were held Wednesday at the San Bruno Funeral Home. Interment was in Olivet Cemetery, Colma.

PETER BONO

Peter Bono, 65, 433 Baden Avenue, South San Francisco, died last Wednesday at Peninsula Hospital after a short illness. He was a native of Butte, Mont., and a resident of this area several years. He was a retired steelworker.

He was a member of Francis Drake Masonic Lodge and the Steelworkers' Union.

Survivors include his wife, Frances; a daughter, Irene Brownell, San Jose; two grandchildren, and several cousins.

Masonic funeral services under auspices of Francis Drake Lodge were held Monday at Nauman and Lincoln Chapel. The Rev. Clifford Custer of Tracy, a personal friend, officiated. Interment was in Woodlawn Memorial Park, Colma.

NOTE—In the above tabulation of the tides the daily tides are given in the order of the occurrence commencing with the early morning tide and the successive tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur the fourth occurring the following morning.

The columns of heights give the elevation of each tide above or below the level of Coast Survey Chart surroundings. The numbers are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign or dash (-) when the numbers are subtracted from the depths given by the chart (U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.)

San Bruno, Calif.

The letters of these boys and girls were selected as best from the hundreds of entries in the contest

"WHAT CHRISTMAS MEANS TO ME"

The Times presented each of these winners with a $5 gift order good at any of the stores advertised on the gift spotter page appearing in the classified section of The Times. The two grand prize winners were selected from the 36 winning entries and each was presented with a $15 merchandise order.

STEPHANIE ALTON—Age 10
333 Budge Rd.
Hillsborough, Calif.

DEAR BOYS AND GIRLS:

May I personally extend to each of the boys and girls who participated in The Times-Post Fifth Annual Christmas Contest the sincere appreciation of all of us here at The Times. Each of the many hundreds of letters received from you was truly heart-warming.

To those of you who did not win a prize, may we acknowledge with gratitude your beautiful and sincere letters . . . I assure you, they were so good, it was difficult each day for the judges to select a winner!

To the 36 winners and to the businesses assisting in the "Christmas Gift Spotter" page, may we thank you, too, for helping in a very personal way to bring the spirit of Christmas to all of our readers.

All of you have shared in bringing nearer the true meaning of this joyful season. In return, we wish you, one and all, a very Merry Christmas!

Sincerely,

Margaret Buschini

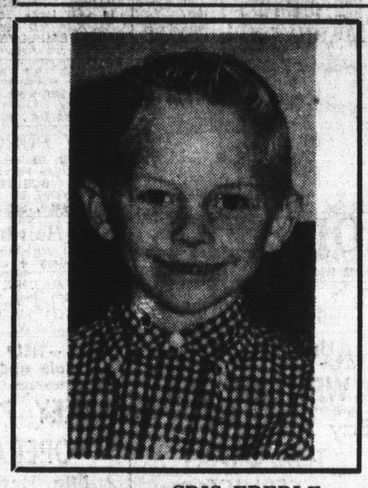
"WHAT CHRISTMAS MEANS TO ME"



TODAY'S CONTEST WINNERS!

$5 GIFT CERTIFICATE for

CRIS EBERLE

59 Komsthoeft St., Apt. 3, Daly City

Cris is six years old, he is in the first grade and attends the Crocker School in Daly City. He has a sister age 4. Cris is very young, but he can hardly wait until he's older as he wants to be a Boy Scout. Right now most of his time is spent playing with his sister and his black and white cat called "Midnight". This is what Christmas means to Cris, "Santa Clause is my very best friend 'cause he gives me most of the things I want and he's everyone's friend. We celebrate Christmas because it's Jesus' birthday. I love Jesus more than anything in the world."

LAUREN PARR

439 Midway Avenue, San Mateo, California

Lauren is a 2nd grader in the Park School in San Mateo, she is eight years old. She has a brother six years old. Her mother tells us she is very fond of baby siting for him. Lauren likes to draw and she also collects "Troll Dolls" for a hobby. Her teacher has given her a special job of baby sitting this Christmas vacation; she is baby sitting the school gold fish! This is what Christmas means to Lauren, "It means to me to give to the family and friends. It means to me the time Jesus was born. It means to share with your friends and be considerate of other people."

Rape Charge Is Lodged

A San Francisco man was arrested by Daly City police Friday on a charge of suspicion of attempted rape.

The suspect is Haorld N. Vigil. Police said the incident, involving a 19-year-old Daly City girl, took place in the city's new Serramonte subdivision.

D.C. Wife Struck by Gun, Knife; Husband Arrested

A Daly City man Thursday was charged with assaulting his wife with a knife, hitting his children with a shotgun and brandishing the weapon in the presence of a police officer.

Arrested was Raymond G. Cooper, 40, of 7322 Mission Street, who listed his occupation as an animal keeper at the San Francisco Zoo.

His wife, Lurline, 27, told patrolman Don Kelley the assault occurred when she tried to wake her husbend up shortly after she arrived home and found some clothing smoldering in the bedroom, apparently ignited by a cigarette.

She said he became enraged, picked up a shotgun lying near his bed, struck her over the head with the weapon and chased her into the living room.

After a struggle, she wrestled the gun away from him and ultimately threw it into the back yard.

Her husband slashed at her arm with a small knife, picked up a larger butcher knife, held it to her throat for several minutes, and then suddenly relaxed, sat down and said "I'm through, now," Mrs. Cooper reported.

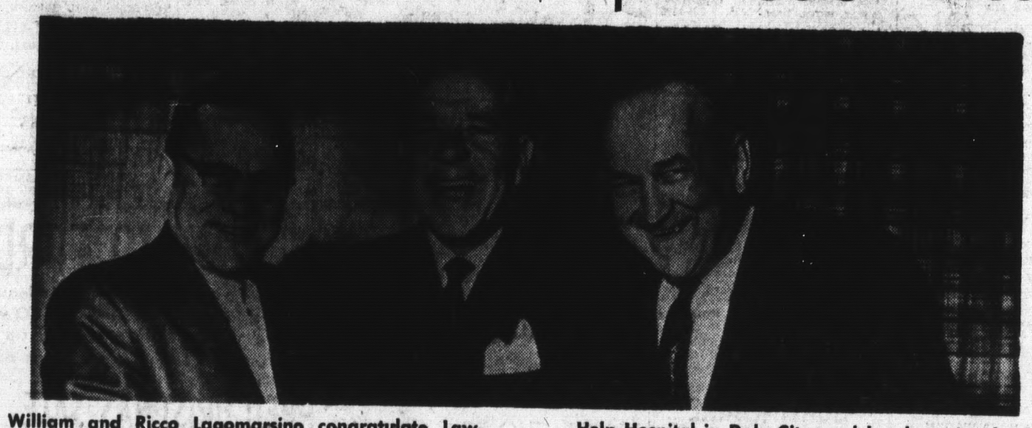
Local Businessman-Philanthropist Celebrates Birthday



William and Ricco Lagomarsino congratulate Lawrence Vannucci on his 77th birthday. Vannucci is owner of Bay Cities Building Materials, as well as five other construction companies, with headquarters at Collins Avenue and Junipero Serra Blvd. in Colma. Serving the San Francisco and Peninsula area for more than 40 years, Vannucci has played a key role in the dynamic growth of the Bay Area and was a large contributor to the construtcion of the New Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City, and has been involved in many other philanthropic activities.

Vannucci's construction company, which was formed in 1921, specializes in the concrete phase of building, has been involved in major concrete pouring jobs as far north as Sacramento. Locally, BCBM has participated in the building of Westlake, Stonestown, Oddstad and Whitecliff Homes, as well as the new Mary's Help Hospital.
